All In Readiness For Apollo Journey

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — While the Apollo 16 astronauts take the day off, activity quickens at the launch pad today to prepare for Sunday's launching of man's fifth journey to the surface of the moon.

John W. Young, Charles M. Duke Jr. and Thomas K. Mattingly II plan to spend most of the day relaxing and reviewing their flight plan in their crew quarters.

Mission director Chester M. Lee reviewed all aspects of preparations and said "all elements report a go" for launch at 12:54 p.m. EST Sunday.

At the launch pad, crews swarmed over the work platforms which cradle the 36-story-tall Saturn 5 rocket which is to start the astronauts on their scientific expedition to the mountains of the moon.

They will make final checks of the two spaceships—the command and lunar modules—and button them up, awaiting the arrival of the spacemen Sunday morning 2½ hours before launch.

Experts also will prepare for the pumping aboard of more than 800,000 gallons of fuel early Sunday.

The astronauts wound up their training in spaceship simulators Friday, rehearsing the crucial maneuvers in which Young and Duke detach the lunar ship, descend to the surface and later lift off to execute the intricate rendezvous and docking maneuvers with the command ship.

Young and Mattingly zipped over central and south Florida in T38 jet planes to sharpen their flying skills.

Young, the Apollo 16 commander who will be making his fourth space flight, and Duke are to make the first landing in the moon's mountainous highlands.

Their target is a peak-rimmed plateau in the highest region on the front side of the moon where they hope to find definite evidence that volcanoes played a part in forming the moon about four billion years ago.

The landing area is believed to have been the site of at least two volcanic events which formed the Descartes mountains and the undulating Cayley plain on which the astronauts are to land.

The astronauts will gather evidence during a record 73 hours on the moon during which they'll drive a four-wheel moon car slightly more than 15 miles.

The plan calls for outlays of $2.5 billion or more to curb water contamination in the five lakes. Governments and private industry on both sides of the border will contribute to the long-term program, with most of the bankroll coming from the United States.

The agreement provides that by Dec. 21, 1975, certain programs will be completed or under way. But it makes clear that control of pollution in the Great Lakes will be a continuing effort by both countries.

The pact includes these provisions:

—The parties agree to deal with municipal waste well enough to keep lake waters at agreed cleanliness levels and to control pollution caused by pesticides, shipping, oil and thermal discharges.

—They agree further to establish controls that would virtually eliminate industrial disposal of mercury and other toxic heavy metals into the lakes.

—They stipulate they will reduce the amount of phosphorus put into Lake Erie and Lake Ontario by agreed amounts over the next five years.

Nixon and Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau arranged a final morning meeting to initial the agreement.

A SCHEDULE has been arranged for service throughout the city. Monday, the first day of the clean-up campaign, will be devoted to clearing all city-owned property of trash and debris. Throughout the week, downtown merchants have organized a campaign to police their own areas and alleys bordering their businesses and

3 Men Sought
In Fatal Shooting Of Store Owner

CINCINNATI (AP) — Three men were being sought today in the fatal shooting of a grocery store owner during a robbery attempt Friday night.

Walter Hemming, 53, was shot once in the chest by one of the men while he struggled with a second man. None of the patrons in the store at the time was hurt.

Police said the victim followed the trio out of the store but collapsed just outside the door of the store in the Clifton section of Cincinnati.

A cash drawer was found open, police said, but they could not determine if the three men obtained any money.

Antilottery
Suit Slated
By Churches

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A coalition of churches says it will file a lawsuit Monday seeking to keep the state lottery issue off the May 2 ballot.

Dr. Paul Minus, chairman of "Churchmen Against the Lottery," said legal requirements for placing constitutional amendments before the voters appear to have been violated with the lottery issue.

An attorney for the group, Jack Cope, said the suit would concentrate on what the group claims is the failure of papers in every Ohio county to advertise the issue for the required five weeks prior to the vote date.

The Paulding Progress in Paulding County did not get the advertisement into the first available weekly edition after the legislature approved the measure because of a printing mixup.

But the paper's publisher has agreed to put out a special edition May 1 which Secretary of State Ted Brown has said will satisfy the legal requirement.

Brown blamed the publication problem on legislative delays.

Minus contended, "Defects that have occurred in the legislature's haste to get a lottery voted are symptomatic of the lack of careful consideration that has been given the lottery question."

Thunderstorms continued to rumble over large portions of the country today, as two large and contrasting air masses clashed from the Atlantic Coast to the southern plains.

Hailstones an inch in diameter smashed into Canton, Ill., accompanied by 50-mile-an-hour winds. Hailstones the size of golf balls were reported at nearby Galsford, Ill.

Tornado watches were issued for large parts of the Midwest late Friday, but there were no reports of the damaging tornadoes which have struck several communities the past several days.

Flooding continued in the southern Appalachians. In Richlands, Va., the Clinch River overflowed its banks and flooded portions of the residential area.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 24 at Flagstaff, Ariz. to 79 at Lufkin, Tex.

CINCINNATI (AP) — A 23-year-old man, arrested on a charge of abducting a young girl from Washington, D.C., has been remanded to the custody of a U.S. marshal in Columbus, Ohio.

Reginald Jackson, who listed a Silver Springs, Md., address, was taken into custody Friday night at St. Clairsville, Ohio, the Cincinnati office of the FBI said.

Emily Maria Allen, 9, who had disappeared Wednesday from her Washington home, was found unharmed Friday in St. Clairsville near the West Virginia border. Authorities found the girl with Jackson in a car that had been listed as stolen.

OTTAWA (AP) — President Nixon wraps up a 40-hour visit to Canada today by signing a cooperative blueprint for cleaning up the chain of Great Lakes along the U. S.-Canadian border.

Dock Union
Files Suit
On Pay Rule

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The West Coast longshore union, describing the Pay Board cut of its wage settlement as "arbitrary and capricious," filed suit Friday to have up to $20 million in disputed wages placed in escrow pending a final settlement.

The Pay Board rejected last month a 20.9 per cent first-year increase won by the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union after a 134-day strike that closed 24 Pacific Coast ports.

The Pay Board's order cut the wage increase back to 14.9 per cent. The ILWU agreement with the employer Pacific Maritime Association provided 72 cents increase to $5 an hour.

The complaint filed in U.S. District Court by attorney Norman Leonard charged that the Pay Board's March 16 action was unlawful under President Nixon's wage stabilization act.

It asked no immediate court judgment, however, on the validity of the Pay Board's basic order trimming the contract wage increases.

It asked only that the court void Pay Board chairman George H. Boldt's instruction to PMA not to put the disputed wage increase into an escrow fund in the 18-month pact.

Shooting Suspect Sought;
State Patrolman Wounded

CINCINNATI (AP)—As dawn broke today in a pouring rain over the gravel pits of the village of Newtown near here, some 40-50 law enforcement officers continued a search for a man wanted in connection with the shooting of his wife and another woman. A state Highway Patrol officer was shot in the darkness when he approached another person in a wooded area near the gravel excavations. The assailant fled after firing at Sgt. C. P. Dwyer, hitting him in the groin.

The object of the search was Howard Poff, 45, of suburban Norwood. Police said Poff, an electrician, went to the home of his estranged wife Mary shortly after 1 a.m. and shot her nine times.

He also shot another woman at the residence, Jane Curless, striking her three times, Norwood police said.

Mrs. Poff was reported in critical condition at Cincinnati General Hospital. The Curless woman, also reported critical, underwent surgery at the same hospital early this morning.

No reason for the shootings was immediately apparent, police said.

The hunt for Poff focused on the gravel excavations of the Dravo Co. in Newtown after Poff's truck was found abandoned on Ohio 32 near the community at the Hamilton-Clermont county line. Police said the truck had gone off the road and wrecked.

Lt. Walter Shearer of the Hamilton County police was heading up the manhunt. He called for all available help from the Highway Patrol and neighboring cities, and an estimated 40-50 men, including 11 Highway Patrolmen, were involved in the search as dawn broke.

Police said the object of their search could have fallen in the treacherous excavation area in the heavy rain and darkness and have drowned. Two police dogs were put to work in efforts to track the fugitive down.

Some of the quarries in the area are as much as 80 feet deep.

Police said Poff shot at the two women with a chrome-plated revolver thought to be of .38 caliber. He reloaded the gun and fired repeatedly, they said.

Sgt. Dwyer's condition was not immediately known.

Vietnam Reds Mount Human Wave Assaults

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese human wave assaults routed South Vietnamese forces from the first fire base to fall in the central highlands today and enemy tanks again blasted their way into An Loc.

The Viet Cong attacked Saigon and Da Nang with rockets and mortars, killing at least 51 Vietnamese and wounding more than 48.

Twenty American aircraft were damaged in the attacks on South Vietnam's two largest cities but there were no reports of American casualties.

One U.S. crewman was killed and two were wounded, however, when enemy ground fire hit a U.S. Air Force C130 transport plane dropping supplies to the beleaguered defenders of An Loc, 60 miles north of Saigon.

The hits disabled two of the plane's four engines, the U.S. Command reported, but it returned to Tan Son Nhut airbase and made a successful landing.

North Vietnamese tanks renewing the assault on An Loc reportedly fired straight on a South Vietnamese command headquarters.

A U.S. helicopter was hit by enemy fire and one crewman was wounded while helping in the rescue of survivors from the fallen paratrooper base in the highlands. A second helicopter was shot down seven miles east of An Khe, also in the central region, the command said. One crewman was killed in the second crash.

The latest action raised the number of U.S. casualties to at least 14 dead, 24 missing and 72 wounded during the enemy offensive launched March 30. At least 20 U.S. aircraft have been shot down and destroyed and 11 others damaged, according to the U.S. Command.

On the far northern front, Associated Press special correspondent Peter Arnett reported the surrounded Fire Base Bastogne, keystone of the defense of the western flanks of the old imperial capital of Hue, was resupplied by air this afternoon for the first time in a week.

A North Vietnamese force of perhaps 400 troops attacked Bastogne again overnight. The defenders claimed more than 100 enemy bodies were found in the barbed wire perimeter at daylight.

Field reports said the human wave assaults by North Vietnamese forces, climaxing five days of heavy shelling and ground thrusts, forced the battered remains of a battalion of South Vietnamese paratroopers to abandon Fire Base Charlie and flee into the jungles of the central highlands.

Clean-Up Campaign Offers
Free Litter Collection

By MICHELE MORRISON

A brighter, more attractive Roundtown is the goal of the city-wide clean-up campaign next week.

The intensive spring cleaning campaign announced by the Mayor Frank Barnhill will begin Monday and continue throughout the week.

"What we are trying to accomplish," Mayor Barnhill said, "is to haul away everything people want to get rid of. This is not only small litter and debris, but larger items. Junk cars on city property or city streets will be towed away at the owners' expense. Those on private properties, we are asking neighborhood residents to do something to get the people to dispose of for health, fire and hazard reasons."

All city residents may clean their yards, alleyways, and the gutters along their streets and stow the trash in plastic bags or other disposable containers for pickup during the week by the service department crew. There will be no pickup in alleys. All trash containers must be left on the front curb.

A SCHEDULE has been arranged for service throughout the city. Monday, the first day of the clean-up campaign, will be devoted to clearing all city-owned property of trash and debris. —They stipulate they will reduce the amount of phosphorus put into Lake Erie and Lake Ontario by agreed amounts over the next five years.

Nixon and Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau arranged a final morning meeting to initial the agreement.

OTTAWA (AP) — President Nixon wraps up a 40-hour visit to Canada today by signing a cooperative blueprint for cleaning up the chain of Great Lakes along the U. S.-Canadian border.

The plan calls for outlays of $2.5 billion or more to curb water contamination in the five lakes. Governments and private industry on both sides of the border will contribute to the long-term program, with most of the bankroll coming from the United States.

The agreement provides that by Dec. 21, 1975, certain programs will be completed or under way. But it makes clear that control of pollution in the Great Lakes will be a continuing effort by both countries.

The pace includes these provisions:

—The parties agree to deal with municipal waste well enough to keep lake waters at agreed cleanliness levels and to control pollution caused by pesticides, shipping, oil and thermal discharges.

—They agree further to establish controls that would virtually eliminate industrial disposal of mercury and other toxic heavy metals into the lakes.

—They stipulate they will reduce the amount of phosphorus put into Lake Erie and Lake Ontario by agreed amounts over the next five years.

Clean-Up Campaign Offers Free Litter Collection

By MICHELE MORRISON
Herald Staff Writer

A brighter, more attractive Roundtown is the goal of the city-wide clean-up campaign next week.

The intensive spring cleaning campaign announced by the Mayor Frank Barnhill will begin Monday and continue throughout the week.

"What we are trying to accomplish," Mayor Barnhill said, "is to haul away everything people want to get rid of. This is not only small litter and debris, but larger items. Junk cars on city property or city streets will be towed away at the owners' expense. Those on private properties, we are asking neighborhood residents to do something to get the people to dispose of for health, fire and hazard reasons."

All city residents may clean their yards, alleyways, and the gutters along their streets and stow the trash in plastic bags or other disposable containers for pickup during the week by the service department crew. There will be no pickup in alleys. All trash containers must be left on the front curb.

A SCHEDULE has been arranged for service throughout the city. Monday, the first day of the clean-up campaign, will be devoted to clearing all city-owned property of trash and debris. Throughout the week, downtown merchants have organized a campaign to police their own areas and alleys bordering their businesses and (Continued on Page 12)

Dock Union Files Suit On Pay Rule

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The West Coast longshore union, describing the Pay Board cut of its wage settlement as "arbitrary and capricious," filed suit Friday to have up to $20 million in disputed wages placed in escrow pending a final settlement.

The Pay Board rejected last month a 20.9 per cent first-year increase won by the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union after a 134-day strike that closed 24 Pacific Coast ports.

The Pay Board's order cut the wage increase back to 14.9 per cent. The ILWU agreement with the employer Pacific Maritime Association provided 72 cents increase to $5 an hour.

The complaint filed in U.S. District Court by attorney Norman Leonard charged that the Pay Board's March 16 action was unlawful under President Nixon's wage stabilization act.

It asked no immediate court judgment, however, on the validity of the Pay Board's basic order trimming the contract wage increases.

It asked only that the court void Pay Board chairman George H. Boldt's instruction to PMA not to put the disputed wage increase into an escrow fund in the 18-month pact.

Barbara, and $150 million at Cape Kennedy in the center of Florida's east coast.

Dr. Kurt Debus, director of the Kennedy Space Center, explained that Saturn 5 launching facilities already in place there will need only minor adaptation to switch from the Apollo moon program to the shuttle flights.

Major modifications to the Titan 3 facilities at Vandenberg will be needed, he said.

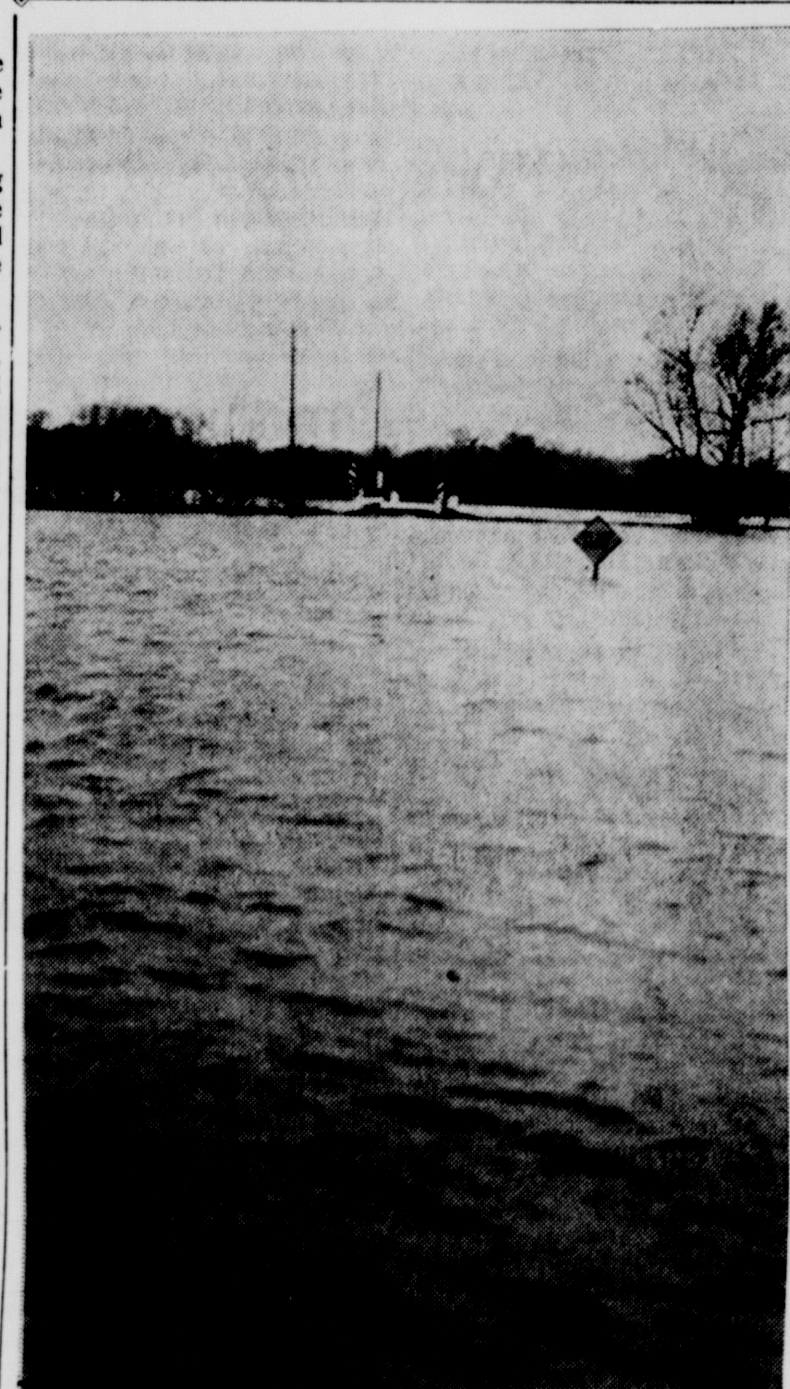

Debus estimated that the current employment at Cape Kennedy of 15,000—about 2,600 government and the rest civilian workers—will drop to about 7,000 in 1974 with the end of the Apollo series and next year's Skylab program. But barring a new program, they would have gone to.

Now the 7,000 figure is expected to be maintained by shuttle tests beginning in 1978. The Cape employed 26,000 six years ago.

Another proven rocket launch base, White Sands in New Mexico lost out on the project, Gov. Bruce King of New Mexico said, because of the decision to use solid fuel boosters which must fall back into the ocean after launch.

Utah had spent more than $100,000 during the past year in an attempt to win the shuttle sweepstakes by promoting the old Michaels Air Force Base near the Dugway Proving Grounds as a site.

HIGH WATER — When the Scioto River crested 9 p.m. Friday at 16.45 feet, it left several county roads closed due to high water. A good example is this picture of the East Ringgold - Red Bridge Rd., east of Route 23, that was covered by water 200 yards on either side of a one lane bridge. Other roads closed are Route 752, between Route 23 and Ashville, and Eit-Noecker Rd., south of Route 752.

Shooting Suspect Sought; State Patrolman Wounded

CINCINNATI (AP)—As dawn broke today in a pouring rain over the gravel pits of the village of Newtown near here, some 40-50 law enforcement officers continued a search for a man wanted in connection with the shooting of his wife and another woman. A state Highway Patrol officer was shot in the darkness when he approached another person in a wooded area near the gravel excavations. The assailant fled after firing at Sgt. C. P. Dwyer, hitting him in the groin.

The object of the search was Howard Poff, 45, of suburban Norwood. Police said Poff, an electrician, went to the home of his estranged wife Mary shortly after 1 a.m. and shot her nine times.

He also shot another woman at the residence, Jane Curless, striking her three times, Norwood police said.

Mrs. Poff was reported in critical condition at Cincinnati General Hospital. The Curless woman, also reported critical, underwent surgery at the same hospital early this morning.

No reason for the shootings was immediately apparent, police said.

The hunt for Poff focused on the gravel excavations of the Dravo Co. in Newtown after Poff's truck was found abandoned on Ohio 32 near the community at the Hamilton-Clermont county line. Police said the truck had gone off the road and wrecked.

Lt. Walter Shearer of the Hamilton County police was heading up the manhunt. He called for all available help from the Highway Patrol and neighboring cities, and an estimated 40-50 men, including 11 Highway Patrolmen, were involved in the search as dawn broke.

Police said the object of their search could have fallen in the treacherous excavation area in the heavy rain and darkness and have drowned. Two police dogs were put to work in efforts to track the fugitive down.

Some of the quarries in the area are as much as 80 feet deep.

Police said Poff shot at the two women with a chrome-plated revolver thought to be .38 caliber. He reloaded the gun and fired repeatedly, they said.

Sgt. Dwyer's condition was not immediately known.

State Senators Plan Fund-Raising Dinner

Arrangements are being handled by Senate Majority Leader Theodore M. Gray, R-3 Piqua, and Sens. Robert B. Shaw, R-16 Columbus, and Michael J. Maloney, R-7 Cincinnati.

Tank Column Slashes Way Into An Loc

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese human wave assaults routed South Vietnamese forces from the first fire base to fall in the central highlands today and enemy tanks again blasted their way into An Loc.

The Viet Cong attacked Saigon and Da Nang with rockets and mortars, killing at least 51 Vietnamese and wounding more than 48.

Twenty American aircraft were damaged in the attacks on South Vietnam's two largest cities but there were no reports of American casualties.

One U.S. crewman was killed and two were wounded, however, when enemy ground fire hit a U.S. Air Force C130 transport plane dropping supplies to the beleaguered defenders of An Loc, 60 miles north of Saigon.

The hits disabled two of the plane's four engines, the U.S. Command reported, but it returned to Tan Son Nhut airbase and made a successful landing.

North Vietnamese tanks renewing the assault on An Loc reportedly fired straight on a South Vietnamese command headquarters.

A U.S. helicopter was hit by enemy fire and one crewman was wounded while helping in the rescue of survivors from the fallen paratrooper base in the highlands. A second helicopter was shot down seven miles east of An Khe, also in the central region, the command said. One crewman was killed in the second crash.

The latest action raised the number of U.S. casualties to at least 14 dead, 24 missing and 72 wounded during the enemy offensive launched March 30. At least 20 U.S. aircraft have been shot down and destroyed and 11 others damaged, according to the U.S. Command.

On the far northern front, Associated Press special correspondent Peter Arnett reported the surrounded Fire Base Bastogne, keystone of the defense of the western flanks of the old imperial capital of Hue, was resupplied by air this afternoon for the first time in a week.

A North Vietnamese force of perhaps 400 troops attacked Bastogne again overnight. The defenders claimed more than 100 enemy bodies were found in the barbed wire perimeter at daylight.

Field reports said the human wave assaults by North Vietnamese forces, climaxing five days of heavy shelling and ground thrusts, forced the battered remains of a battalion of South Vietnamese paratroopers to abandon Fire Base Charlie and flee into the jungles of the central highlands.

ITT Official Tells Of Meets

Had Protested Government Suit

WASHINGTON (AP) — A high-ranking official of International Telephone & Telegraph Corp. says he met with former federal antitrust director Richard McLaren in early 1970 to protest three suits against his company.

E. J. Gerrity, senior vice president for corporate relations and advertising, said Friday he met during 1969 with White House aides Herb Klein, in charge of communications, and Charles Colson, who he described as overseer of the balance-of-payments policy.

Gerrity said he told McLaren it was unfair to pursue the suits against ITT because the conglomerate had acquired the subsidiaries before he took office.

"The rules were being changed in the ninth inning," Gerrity said he told McLaren.

Gerrity went to Klein in early 1969, he said, because he knew Klein attended White House meetings and ITT wanted him to know that "the business community was taking the administration's decision to sue negatively."

Gerrity said he met with Colson because ITT wanted a relaxation of regulations governing balance of payments so the conglomerate could bring money back into the United States.

He said none of the three aides made any commitments to him.

After Gerrity testified at the Senate Judiciary Committee investigation of the nomination of Richard G. Kleindienst to be attorney general, Sen. John Tunney, D-Calif., said the hearings "demonstrate that it's a dismal swamp."

Man Arrested For Abduction

CINCINNATI (AP) — A 23-year-old man, arrested on a charge of abducting a young girl from Washington, D.C., has been remanded to the custody of a U.S. marshal in Columbus, Ohio.

Reginald Jackson, who listed a Silver Springs, Md., address, was taken into custody Friday night at St. Clairsville, Ohio, the Cincinnati office of the FBI said.

Emily Maria Allen, 9, who had disappeared Wednesday from her Washington home, was found unharmed Friday in St. Clairsville near the West Virginia border. Authorities found the girl with Jackson in a car that had been listed as stolen.

Lawn Problems Will Show Now

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent,
Agriculture

Dead patches of grass in your lawn may be caused from a number of things — insects, diseases, lack of moisture due to hard spots or insufficient top soil.

A common cause is white grubs, larvae of the many familiar beetles. Grubworms spend the winter several inches deep in the soil below the grass. As early as March, the pests begin to move upward to the grass roots and feeding starts (on the grass roots) during April and May.

One way to determine if you have grubs is to cut a square foot of grass on three sides and roll back the sod. If you find two or more grubs per square foot, after checking several places in the lawn, a grub treatment is needed.

Use chlordane, aldrin, dieldrin or heptachlor to control the grubs. Call your county Extension agent, George Hamrick, at 474-7534 for information on formulations to buy and rates to use.

ONE treatment normally controls grubs for five or more years.

Thatch is a tightly intermingled layer of living and dead stems, leaves and roots of grass which develops between the layer of green vegetation and the soil surface.

Proper use of powered machines (rakes, vertical mowers, etc.) designed to remove thatch is probably the best solution. You can prevent a serious thatch problem with the annual use of such machines. Dethatching should be done during the cool season of the year.

Limited experience indicates that early spring, about the time grass starts growing, is the best time for removing thatch. September is also a good time, providing the soil is moist. In most cities, you can buy or rent machines for removing thatch.

You can also control thatch with an annual topdressing of about one-eighth inch of good topsoil. The soil buries the thatch and causes it to decompose. Don't topdress with peat or other organic materials as this merely adds to the problem.

Other maintenance practices which discourage thatch are short mowing (but not shorter than recommended, about two inches on bluegrasses), adequate but not excessive fertilization, removing clippings and liming, if needed.

fertilize in early spring. Apply a complete dry fertilizer with an analysis of 4-16-16 or equivalent at the rate of three to four pounds per 100 square feet. This should be done when growth is beginning and again after flowering. Water the fertilizer into the soil.

In order to prevent the iris borer getting into the rizome, spray plants when leaves are five to six inches long with the insecticide Cygon. Repeat application in 30 days.

Food Prices Make Farmer The Scapegoat

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent,
Agriculture

In this moment of public hysteria over rising food prices, farmers are unjustifiably becoming the scapegoat.

The public is being misled concerning rising food prices. The latest labor report showed retail beef prices at a record high during February, while farm prices went down, during that same period.

In terms of percentages, the latest government reports show 80 per cent of the February meat increases went to middlemen. The report goes on to point out that in January 40.1 cents of every dollar spent on food went to farmers, while in February the farmer's share dropped to 30.7 cents.

Recent reports show the labor costs in packing plants have risen 44 per cent and retail store labor has climbed 48 per cent in the past decade. In hard cash terms, reports show retail food costs for the typical family in 1971 rose $21. Broken down, $20 of that increase went for processing, shipping costs and middleman profits, while $1 went to the farmer.

Perhaps the public is justified in becoming alarmed over food prices, but let's also give farmers a fair shake. Let's look at where the money goes and concentrate our efforts in solving that problem. Our beef producers have increased beef production by over 150 per cent over the past 20 years, in order to keep up with the public's demand for high quality beef.

This has been done at a substantial lower percentage of the consumer's disposable income than in 1951. What other industry can match that kind of production, when inflation and over all higher costs are considered?

The public should approach the price hike rationally and place the blame for the hike where it belongs. Food, at a cost of 16 per cent of the disposable income is a better bargain today than ever before.

A salad and sandwich buffet will be served. We hope to see you there.

It's traditional time of year for house cleaning, and if you're planning a clean-up campaign around your house, some basic safety rules should be kept in mind. Be sure to handle junk, broken glass and sharp objects with care and dispose of all waste properly. Always use ladder or stool for reaching high, hard-to-clean places. Don't risk overreaching the ladder — take time to climb down and move it to a safe, solid position. Never mix household cleaning products and when cleaning a dusty room be sure to open windows or doors for proper ventilation. Don't try to lift heavy objects and remember to take rest breaks to avoid fatigue.

A survey shows the idea of open code dating supermarket goods is definitely favored by consumers. However, the study, conducted by the Economic Research Service, indicates that there is much confusion as to what the dates mean. Two of the dates in use are that "pull date" and "expiration date."

The first is the date after which the product should be removed from sale but does not mean the product doesn't still have enough shelf life to stay at top quality if kept at home for a while before use. The "expiration date" is the date before which a product should be used for best results. After the "expiration date," an item is expected to show a significant loss of quality and freshness even though it still may be safe to use.

Federal legislation on open dating is pending in both houses of Congress and open dating requirements have already been passed in New York City and Florida's Miami area. It seems reasonable for consumers to expect open dates on much of the food they buy in the foreseeable future.

Ornamental Evergreen Foliage Can Poison Stock

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent,
Agriculture

Several cases of cattle poisoning by ornamental yew foliage have been diagnosed by the Ohio Department of Agriculture laboratory at Reynoldsburg during the past year.

Cattle, in one case, strayed from their pasture for a short time one afternoon. During this time, some of them browsed on ornamental evergreen foliage (yew). All but one animal seemed normal that evening, but six of the 13 in the lot were dead the next morning, and another died within a few hours.

In another case, five of 15 head died when trimmings from ornamental shrubs in the yard were disposed of in the pasture. The cause of poisoning was not suspected in either case until specimens had been submitted to the laboratory, the department reported.

R. J. Garner, in his book "Veterinary Toxicology," points out that yews have been known to be poisonous for centuries.

With the increased use of this hardy evergreen in landscaping, its toxicity should be considered where animals may have access to the plant or its trimmings. Total fatal doses of yew leaves are:

Horses, 100-200 grams (0.22-0.44 lbs.); ox or cow, about 500 grams (1.1 lb.); Sheep, 100-200 grams (0.22-0.44 lbs.); Pig 75 grams (.17 lb.).

The most common result of yew poisoning is sudden death. Symptoms, if seen, are trembling, labored breathing, and collapse with death occurring within a few minutes. In cattle,

Certainly Lasso^(R) plus Lorox^{*} controls the 'new' grasses like fall panicum. — Solves many 'old' weed problems, too.

Plenty of soybean growers last season learned that the "foxtail" they thought grew through their herbicide was really fall panicum.

And plenty of growers this season will learn that if you tank mix Lasso plus Lorox, you won't find fall panicum. Nor will you find giant foxtail, crabgrass or lots of other grasses . . . or lots of broadleaves like smartweed, pigweed, and lambsquarters.

Lasso plus Lorox gets 'em out.

Which means this tank mix solves plenty of weed problems. — Or keeps them from becoming problems.

Lawn Problems Will Show Now

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent,
Agriculture

Dead patches of grass in your lawn may be caused from a number of things — insects, diseases, lack of moisture due to hard spots or insufficient top soil.

A common cause is white grubs, larvae of the many familiar beetles. Grubworms spend the winter several inches deep in the soil below the grass. As early as March, the pests begin to move upward to the grass roots and feeding starts (on the grass roots) during April and May.

One way to determine if you have grubs is to cut a square foot of grass on three sides and roll back the sod. If you find two or more grubs per square foot, after checking several places in the lawn, a grub treatment is needed.

Use chlordane, aldrin, dieldrin or heptachlor to control the grubs. Call your county Extension agent, George Hamrick, at 474-7534 for information on formulations to buy and rates to use.

ONE treatment normally controls grubs for five or more years.

Thatch is a tightly intermingled layer of living and dead stems, leaves and roots of grass which develops between the layer of green vegetation and the soil surface.

Proper use of powered machines (rakes, vertical mowers, etc.) designed to remove thatch is probably the best solution. You can prevent a serious thatch problem with the annual use of such machines. Dethatching should be done during the cool season of the year.

Limited experience indicates that early spring, about the time grass starts growing, is the best time for removing thatch. September is also a good time, providing the soil is moist. In most cities, you can buy or rent machines for removing thatch.

You can also control thatch with an annual topdressing of about one-eighth inch of good topsoil. The soil buries the thatch and causes it to decompose. Don't topdress with peat or other organic materials as this merely adds to the problem.

Other maintenance practices which discourage thatch are short mowing (but not shorter than recommended, about two inches on bluegrasses), adequate but not excessive fertilization, removing clippings and liming, if needed.

fertilize in early spring. Apply a complete dry fertilizer with an analysis of 4-16-16 or equivalent at the rate of three to four pounds per 100 square feet. This should be done when growth is beginning and again after flowering. Water the fertilizer into the soil.

In order to prevent the iris borer getting into the rizome, spray plants when leaves are five to six inches long with the insecticide Cygon. Repeat application in 30 days.

Food Prices Make Farmer The Scapegoat

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent,
Agriculture

In this moment of public hysteria over rising food prices, farmers are unjustifiably becoming the scapegoat.

The public is being misled concerning rising food prices. The latest labor report showed retail beef prices at a record high during February, while farm prices went down, during that same period.

In terms of percentages, the latest government reports show 80 per cent of the February meat increases went to middlemen. The report goes on to point out that in January 40.1 cents of every dollar spent on food went to farmers, while in February the farmer's share dropped to 30.7 cents.

Recent reports show the labor costs in packing plants have risen 44 per cent and retail store labor has climbed 48 per cent in the past decade. In hard cash terms, reports show retail food costs for the typical family in 1971 rose $21. Broken down, $20 of that increase went for processing, shipping costs and middleman profits, while $1 went to the farmer.

Perhaps the public is justified in becoming alarmed over food prices, but let's also give farmers a fair shake. Let's look at where the money goes and concentrate our efforts in solving that problem. Our beef producers have increased beef production by over 150 per cent over the past 20 years, in order to keep up with the public's demand for high quality beef.

This has been done at a substantial lower percentage of the consumer's disposable income than in 1951. What other industry can match that kind of production, when inflation and over all higher costs are considered?

The public should approach the price hike rationally and place the blame for the hike where it belongs. Food, at a cost of 16 per cent of the disposable income is a better bargain today than ever before.

Don't miss the annual Extension Homemakers Spring meeting on Monday, April 17, 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the 4-H and Grange Building. We have a great program lined up including Spring Flower Arranging by Mrs. Bill Lockard, a Norway Travelogue by Mrs. Maxine Williamson, Spring Fashion Show by Christopher's Don Boutique and Scandinavian Cookery by Betty Newton of Columbia Gas.

A salad and sandwich buffet will be served. We hope to see you there.

It's traditional time of year for house cleaning, and if you're planning a clean-up campaign around your house, some basic safety rules should be kept in mind. Be sure to handle junk, broken glass and sharp objects with care and dispose of all waste properly. Always use ladder or stool for reaching high, hard-to-clean places. Don't risk overreaching the ladder — take time to climb down and move it to a safe, solid position. Never mix household cleaning products and when cleaning a dusty room be sure to open windows or doors for proper ventilation. Don't try to lift heavy objects and remember to take rest breaks to avoid fatigue.

A survey shows the idea of open code dating supermarket goods is definitely favored by consumers. However, the study, conducted by the Economic Research Service, indicates that there is much confusion as to what the dates mean. Two of the dates in use are "pull date" and "expiration date."

The first is the date after which the product should be removed from sale but does not mean the product doesn't still have enough shelf life to stay at top quality if kept at home for a while before use. The "expiration date" is the date before which a product should be used for best results. After the "expiration date," an item is expected to show a significant loss of quality and freshness even though it still may be safe to use.

Federal legislation on open dating is pending in both houses of Congress and open dating requirements have already been passed in New York City and Florida's Miami area. It seems reasonable for consumers to expect open dates on much of the food they buy in the foreseeable future.

Ornamental Evergreen Foliage Can Poison Stock

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent,
Agriculture

Several cases of cattle poisoning by ornamental yew foliage have been diagnosed by the Ohio Department of Agriculture laboratory at Reynoldsburg during the past year.

Cattle, in one case, strayed from their pasture for a short time one afternoon. During this time, some of them browsed on ornamental evergreen foliage (yew). All but one animal seemed normal that evening, but six of the 13 in the lot were dead the next morning, and another died within a few hours.

In another case, five of 15 head died when trimmings from ornamental shrubs in the yard were disposed of in the pasture. The cause of poisoning was not suspected in either case until specimens had been submitted to the laboratory, the department reported.

R. J. Garner, in his book "Veterinary Toxicology," points out that yews have been known to be poisonous for centuries.

With the increased use of this hardy evergreen in landscaping, its toxicity should be considered where animals may have access to the plant or its trimmings. Total fatal doses of yew leaves are:

Horses, 100-200 grams (0.22-0.44 lbs.); ox or cow, about 500 grams (1.1 lb.); Sheep, 100-200 grams (0.22-0.44 lbs.); Pig 75 grams (.17 lb.).

The most common result of yew poisoning is sudden death. Symptoms, if seen, are trembling, labored breathing, and collapse with death occurring within a few minutes. In cattle, death may be delayed for as long as two days the animals meanwhile appearing normal. In cattle known to have consumed yew, almost the only procedure reported of value is to have a veterinarian open the rumen and remove the contents.

The histories received at the laboratory indicate that most of the cattle known to have eaten the plant never show any symptoms, and most of those that do, die regardless of treatment.

Counterculture Isn't Dead, Just Becoming Less Visible

By LYNN SHERR
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The counterculture isn't dead. It's just less visible.
That's the opinion of Stewart Brand, 33, whose book, "The Last Whole Earth Catalog," a survival handbook for the commune generation, won the prestigious National Book Award in the "contemporary affairs" category Wednesday.

"Most of my gang was part of the silent generation in the 1950s, where everyone said, 'Come on, speak up, bug us.' So we did," Brand said in an interview.
"But we all got all that stuff done, and now it's kind of a reflective period. I suspect it's going to be more subversive than the noise ever was.

"You always talk first, then do things. Now we're doing," he said.
"Communes used to be very visible and very few. Now they are low-profile and there are lots," he said. "There's kids in their early 20s who have been through three communes. They know how to do it—make food, keep a home, take care of horses. But it's not quite as romantic as it was. It's hard work. They are a very sophisticated generation," he said.
As for the drop-out phenomenon, "it's expanding—fast,"

Brand said. "It's the people dropping out of the professions—guys who are successful in advertising, publishing, law, engineering.
"And then there's enormous quantities of ... I don't know how to define them, but they have two children and they can't stand one more year in the city and instead of moving to the Minneapolis branch of the company they go to Canada or to grandpa's farm," he said.
The same spirit of independent self-reliance pervades the catalog and its five best-selling predecessors. Everything is do-it-yourself—from the original at-home printing operation to the mail-order materials on how to deliver your own baby. Brand decided to just stop publishing, hence "The Last," which has 816,000 copies sold since June.

House Panel Claims Credit For Unmasking Red Influence

WASHINGTON (AP)—House subversive-seekers summarized and defended their past year's probes in a 55,000-word report today that a critic claimed contains "thousands of totally unsubstantiated libels."

The House Internal Security Committee claimed credit for publicizing what it termed Communist organizational influence in antiwar demonstrations.

"In the future, one has reason to believe, fewer innocent citizens will swell the ranks of mass outpourings concocted by our Communist enemies," wrote Rep. Richard H. Ichord, D-Mo., committee chairman.
While Students for a Democratic Society and the Black Panther Party are withering since committee probes in 1969 and 1970, Ichord added, development of the pro-Maoist Revolutionary Union which the panel investigated last year shows "the birth of revolutionary groups is constantly recurring and requires our eternal vigilance."

But Rep. Robert F. Drinan, D-Mass., in dissent, said the report sets forth "grossly irresponsible libels upon the groups which led last May's Washington peace demonstrations, the National Peace Action Coalition and the People's Coalition for Peace and Justice, and upon the peace movement in general."

The peace-group hearings and this part of the report, he added in a 6½-page general attack on the committee and its activities, "make a mockery of the 1st, 4th and 9th amendments to the Constitution and, in my judgment, disgrace the House of Representatives."

Ichord called Drinan's position a diatribe and said it is "apparently consistent with the intent of Congressman Drinan to collapse the committee from within."

In a separate five-page minority view, the committee's four Republicans—John M. Ashbrook of Ohio, Roger H. Zion of Indiana, Fletcher Thompson of Georgia and John G. Schmitz of California—expressed support for Ichord.

Arraignment For Kidnap Set April 28

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Arraignment of two Marion Correctional Institute escapees on federal kidnap charges has been scheduled for April 28 in U.S. District Court here.

The date was set Friday during a preliminary hearing before a U.S. magistrate for James Patterson, 40, of Lima and Lawrence Lamont, 27, of Cleveland. Bond of $250,000 each was continued and the men were returned to the Allen County Jail, where they have been held since their capture last Saturday in Lima.

Patterson and Lamont, who escaped from the Marion facility Feb. 23, are charged with abducting Joseph Satcher, 22, from a Toledo service station during a holdup March 22, and Frank Welzbacher, 36, during a carryout robbery April 6.

The abducted men later were found dead, shot in the head, on county roads in Michigan just north of the Ohio border.
The Lucas County grand jury will be asked next Wednesday to return armed robbery and abduction-resulting-in-death indictments against Patterson and Lamont. The latter charge carries a death sentence.

However, the federal government must surrender jurisdiction in the case before the county may prosecute the men.

to a fine of up to $10,000 for carrying unauthorized passengers on a charter.

Altimeter Error Crash Cause?

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP) — A Huntington newspaper says the final report by the National Transportation Safety Board on the Marshall University plane crash primarily blames the DC's flight crew, but also notes possible altimeter error.

The Southern Airways jetliner, chartered for the Marshall football team, smashed into a rainy hillside Nov. 14, 1970, just short of the runway at Tri-State Airport here. The crash killed 75 persons, including most of the school's football team and coaching staff.

The NTSB's final report was concluded Friday and is to be formally released Monday, the Herald Dispatch and Advertiser said in this morning's editions.

Woman Sentenced On Forgery Charge

GEORGETOWN, Ohio (AP) — A 23-year-old Cincinnati woman has been sentenced to a 1-20 year term in the Marysville Women's Reformatory on a charge of forgery.

Cynthia Darby, who entered a plea of guilty, was sentenced Thursday by Judge John Houston of the Brown County Criminal Court.

Attorney Forest Heis, who represented the defendant, said she was the victim of a drug habit.

Prime Rate Going Up

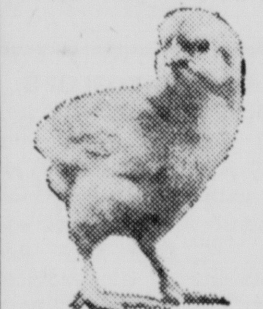

NEW YORK (AP) — Two major New York banks with so-called "floating" prime lending rates said Friday they will boost their rates from 5 per cent to 5½ per cent on Monday.

The hikes were announced by First National City Bank, the nation's second biggest, and 16th-ranked Irving Trust Co. Most other commercial bank prime rates are at 5 per cent or below.

The prime rate is the interest level charged by banks on short-term loans to their best business customers. At most banks, the rate is adjusted administratively and less frequently than at institutions with floating primes.

Both Citibank and Irving Trust adjust their prime rates more or less automatically according to various credit market rates. Their rates are subject to weekly change and have been among the most sensitive in the country since the "floating" system was adopted late last year.

State Solons On Junket

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Six state legislators are junketing in Hawaii this week, and they apparently had to break federal regulations to do it.

The six are guests of the Ohio Automobile Dealers Association convention in Honolulu. They flew to Honolulu with the dealers on a charter flight, despite Civil Aeronautics Board regulations forbidding non-members of an organization to fly on a charter flight with the group.

Counterculture Isn't Dead, Just Becoming Less Visible

By LYNN SHERR
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The counterculture isn't dead. It's just less visible.

That's the opinion of Stewart Brand, 33, whose book, "The Last Whole Earth Catalog," a survival handbook for the commune generation, won the prestigious National Book Award in the "contemporary affairs" category Wednesday. "Most of my gang was part of the silent generation in the 1950s, where everyone said, 'Come on, speak up, bug us.' So we did," Brand said in an interview. "But we all got all that stuff done, and now it's kind of a reflective period. I suspect it's going to be more subversive than the noise ever was. "You always talk first, then do things. Now we're doing," he said.

"Communes used to be very visible and very few. Now they are low-profile and there are lots," he said. "There's kids in their early 20s who have been through three communes. They know how to do it—make food, keep a home, take care of horses. But it's not quite as romantic as it was. It's hard work. They are a very sophisticated generation," he said.

As for the drop-out phenomenon, "it's expanding—fast,"

Brand said. "It's the people dropping out of the professions—guys who are successful in advertising, publishing, law, engineering.

"And then there's enormous quantities of ... I don't know how to define them, but they have two children and they can't stand one more year in the city and instead of moving to the Minneapolis branch of the company they go to Canada or to grandpa's farm," he said.

The same spirit of independent self-reliance pervades the catalog and its five best-selling predecessors. Everything is do-it-yourself—from the original at-home printing operation to the mail-order materials on how to deliver your own baby.

Brand decided to just stop publishing, hence "The Last," which has 816,000 copies sold since June.

Moscow Differences

As it turned out, President Nixon's trip to Red China was perhaps more show than substance. This was natural as for most Americans it was the first glimpse behind the bamboo curtain. The Chinese leaders responded to the television cameras with a display of polite cordiality.

The Soviet trip could be another matter. While Moscow is not exactly the favorite American vacationland, neither is it a closed city like Peking. The presidential trip in May will be historical on several counts, but it will not carry the mystique of the China visit.

But perhaps the substance of the journey will be more rewarding. There is ample reason to believe the Russians may be as eager as the United States for at least a better understanding of differences.

The differences between the Kremlin and Peking loom big in Soviet priorities. The Russians will be interested in obtaining more concrete agreements with the U.S. than the Chinese did. In addition, Soviet economic problems have created a genuine need for expanded trade.

The Moscow trip should turn out to be more substantive and less ceremonial than the one to China. If the Russians do not pull one of their famous last minute switches.

Inspiring Example

Now that some seasoning has been applied to the issue of the 18-year old vote, it can be noted with conviction that many of the fears initially expressed have not come to pass. The under-21 voters have not stormed the ballot barricades. In fact, they have not developed any clear intent with their new franchise.

A few radicals have been voted into office: a working majority on the Berkeley, Calif., town council; two to the Ann Arbor, Mich., council. But even at Berkeley the radicals have found their ideas have to take a back seat to the realities of crime, taxation and street maintenance.

Less publicized are the few sub-21

officeholders who ran and won not with the aim of upsetting the system but because they wanted to get involved. One of these was Ron Hooker, a 19-year-old college student who became mayor of Newcomerstown, O., (pop. 4,500) last January.

Hooker finds he has "not enough time to do everything I want." He finds he is much in demand as a public speaker.

"I feel these speeches are a big part of my job," Hooker says. "I've got one main message — 'get involved.' Everyone should take an active part in the community."

That is a message which can only help cement relations between the generations.

The New Realism

By JEFFERY HART

The hard truth must be faced: the Nixon Administration, and indeed the principal governments of Western Europe, are drawing closer to the white governments of South Africa.

15 Asian Climbers Die In Avalanche

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP) — Fifteen Asian climbers have been killed in the worst tragedy in the history of Himalayan exploration.

Four South Koreans, a Japanese cameraman and 10 Nepalese Sherpa guides were buried Monday by an avalanche that crashed down on the camp of a South Korean expedition attempting to scale 26,752-foot Mt. Manaslu, the world's eighth tallest peak.

Seven Koreans and two Sherpas survived.

The expedition leader, Jung Sup Kim, was lifted from a glacier by helicopter and flown back to Katmandu along with Hae Yun Byong, a 33-year-old Korean newspaperman in the party, and one of Kim's brothers who was critically injured in the avalanche.

One of the dead Korean mountaineers also was a brother of the Kims. A fourth Kim brother, Ki Sup Kim, was swept away by strong wind and killed last year, 1,100 feet from the summit of Manaslu.

Byong said he was at Camp 2, with Jung Sup Kim and four other Korean climbers when about 200 tons of ice rumbled down about 3 a.m. and engulfed the forward camp 2,110 feet above them. It was at 21,320 feet.

"We saw a small dot about two kilometers from Camp 2 and at first thought it was a crevasse, but then it turned out to be an avalanche," Byong said.

Padding silently along jungle paths, the tiger relies mainly on superb hearing and eyesight to locate game.

Horoscope Forecast

By Carroll Righter

SUNDAY'S HOROSCOPE

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A day and evening when your reasoning powers are likely to conflict with your emotions, thus bringing confusion and odd reactions. A fine day and evening to attend the services that clarify your finest principles and other fine tenets.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) A day when you should plan your time and activities intelligently instead of going off on a tangent. Try not to criticize others or take foolish chances. Show that you are capable.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) You think you can buy your way into almost anything now, but this is a fallacy. Be sensible and know what you really want. Your intuition is working fine, so follow it more.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Expansion where personal matters are concerned is fine, but use caution and care. Avoid social matters where arguments could arise. You will feel fresh in the morning after a sound sleep.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Handle all obligations facing you and take them in your stride. A better plan for the future can now be formulated. Show that you are an intelligent person. Relax tonight.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Do not turn against a good friend who does not agree with you, but rise above such pettiness. Some desires you have could easily lead to trouble, so consider well before going after them.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Show that you live the philosophy you preach. Think carefully before engaging in activities that are considered questionable. Study your career activities for possible improvements.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) A fine day for digging up information you need that can be very helpful in a project that is important to you. Don't lose your temper with those who think courtesy is weakness.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You want your own way now but a gentle manner is the best way to get it, not by being so forceful with others. Mate could be just as stubborn as you, so use diplomacy.

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — As the country fights to keep a lid on wage and price increases, some of the nation's biggest corporations are reporting tremendous first-quarter profit gains over a year earlier.

While the reports make great news for shareholders attending annual meetings, which reach a peak this month, they are causing concern in Washington and anger among union leaders.

Already the Cost of Living Council has ordered some companies to roll back prices. And it has found in a review of 105 corporate reports that 20 percent of them indicated unacceptably high profits.

In quitting the Pay Board last month, George Meany, AFL-CIO president, claimed that "profits have begun to skyrocket." And now, lending credence to his charge, profit gains of 30 and 40 per cent are common.

In the past few days, for example, the following companies were among those reporting big percentage gains:

Du Pont 32, Honeywell 60, IBM 22, Westinghouse Electric 27, Polaroid 17, Allied Chemical 19, St. Regis Paper 64, Kimberly-Clark 35, Howard Johnson 44, Consolidated Paper 55, United Aircraft 50, International Paper 36.

These companies are hardly typical. Most companies are reporting smaller gains and, as always, some companies are in the red. And some have not yet reported. But the impression at this point is that profits are surging.

In defense of the big gains, industrialists argue that one cannot ignore the special nature of the present figures. A larger perspective must be taken, they say.

The current figures are high only in a relative sense, they say, pointing to the fact that last year's first-quarter profits were nothing to crow about since the nation still was suffering some effects of the recession.

A study of 4,900 corporations by the First National City Bank found that profits last year rose 13 per cent and commented: "For a comeback, it was not much of a comeback." Profit margins in 1970, it said, were the worst since World War II.

In its Monthly Economic Letter for April, it claims that "the current recovery in corporate earnings stalled in mid-1971. Since then," it adds, "after-tax profits have not risen appreciably."

First City claims "a downward trend in profits has persisted since the middle of 1966; earnings never recovered from the minirecession of 1966-1967 and plunged deeper still in 1969-1970."

While the big gains being reported by outstanding companies may not indicate conditions for many thousands of other companies, they definitely suggest that a watershed may have been crossed.

Argus Research, which supplies some of the most widely followed research in the business and investment communities, comments that "... our analysis indicates, literally, there is tremendous room for profits growth in the economy

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY . . . he or she will be one of those delightful young people with a mind sharp as a tack and can come to right decisions very quickly, so be sure to give the finest education you can afford; then the great potential here can be realized. over the next several years." It cites two fundamental reasons for the improved outlook: interest payments lower than had been anticipated, and the likelihood that productivity growth, long mired, will become unstuck.

And it foresees the likelihood that profits in 1973 and 1974 will be strong, as margins return to "more normal" levels.

All this, it concludes, will create problems for the Pay Board and Price Commission and it foresees a lot of "noise" from Washington, but it adds: "We do not believe that controls will seriously impair those economic forces that are working to bring about gains in profits."

And First City finishes its critique of profits by offering to Meany the advice of an illustrious predecessor, Samuel Gompers, the great union leader of another year, who said:

"The worst crime against working people is a company that fails to make a profit."

Maybe so. But as the old vaudevillian said: "It ain't what you say or even how you say it. Timing's the thing that wins the audience." Industry might have attracted the audience but it's not likely to have won it.

According To Boyle

By KAY BARTLETT
(For Hal Boyle)

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — It's that time of year again for husbands.

The first shock strikes when he walks onto the front lawn some morning hunting his newspaper and discovers the first sprig of grass peeping through the yellow winter turf.

He waits a week, hoping the grass will go away or a great drought will come, only on his own lawn, and he will thus not face the spring chores.

At the end of the week, the weeds have popped up all over the place and more grass has come up and he knows his seasonal labor must start.

So he lays out a lot of dough for fertilizer, weed killer and bug assassins.

You have the paradox of a man not wanting grass, yet nurturing it. It is probable that this in truth is caused by conflict with the wife, who insists that the lawn look something better than the vacant lot down the street.

The husband fertilizes, mows, replaces turf the insects have eaten, edges the walks, and runs up his water bill.

So what happens? The only really decent grass he grows is in the flower beds.

A current fad is the greatest thing that ever happened to husbands.

Householders often have sworn about their lawns: "I'm going to concrete the whole thing and paint it green."

Now they are doing it.

Someone built a circular driveway through his front lawn and turned the bits and pieces of left-over ground into flower plots.

Next, a housewife down the street saw it and declared, "Joe, we've just got to have a circular drive like the Smiths."

Now these bits of concrete are spreading all over, covering up grass, weeds and cinch bugs.

If a man has the money, he then can have someone put a swimming pool in the back yard. You have to have extensive concrete walks around the pool, of course, and rather soon he finds himself without any grass at all, front or back.

Another problem: The neighborhood can be crawling with youngsters old enough to handle a lawnmower. But let a householder beckon to one and whisper, "How'd you like to make a few bucks?" and they all run.

There are adult crews circulating through most cities seeking lawn work.

No longer do they mow the lawn, they tell you. And they charge enough to make most husbands peek into the check stubs to see if the family fortune is sufficient to hire them.

Solution to the whole thing would be to put down synthetic turf like on some football fields. Eternally green and carefree.

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Morning stiffness of the muscles and joints is one of the most distressing symptoms of some forms of arthritis.

By peculiar coincidence, Dr. George E. Ehrlich of the Albert Einstein Medical Center in Philadelphia, learned an odd but interesting fact.

A number of his female patients told him that when they wore ordinary "stretch" gloves their arthritic pains were markedly relieved.

On this basis, Dr. Ehrlich studied a large group of patients of all ages with rheumatoid arthritis. He found that when they wore nylon or other knit gloves all through the night, the patients awoke with remarkable relief from the unpleasant morning stiffness.

Perhaps the same method might be applied to the feet. The reason is not entirely clear yet, but what is known is that it does benefit these patients.

The blood supply to any organ of the body, and to the limbs, is the lifeline to survival.

When there is an inadequate amount of blood to the heart, this powerful muscle cannot function. When there is an inadequate amount of blood to the brain, its vital capacity is lost.

So it is with the lungs, the liver, the spleen, the intestines and the extremities — the feet, the legs, the arms, the hands.

There are numerous reasons why the blood supply may become deficient. Sometimes, when the basic reason is found, it can be eliminated.

But now there is a new concept practiced surgically, to revitalize organs by giving them a new source of blood. It is known as "revascularization."

With the tiniest instruments, used under a microscope, it is now possible to send more blood to the heart to keep it alive and pumping.

The excellent experience of this type of heart surgery has encouraged doctors to try similar techniques for bringing more blood to the brain. One of the pioneers is Dr. Norman Chater, of the University of California School of Medicine in San Francisco.

Another is Dr. M. Gazi Yasargil, of the University of Zurich, who actually taught Dr. Chater how to sew the most minute blood vessels together in order to bring more blood to the brain.

They'll Do It Every Time

Moscow Differences

As it turned out, President Nixon's trip to Red China was perhaps more show than substance. This was natural as for most Americans it was the first glimpse behind the bamboo curtain. The Chinese leaders responded to the television cameras with a display of polite cordiality.

The Soviet trip could be another matter. While Moscow is not exactly the favorite American vacationland, neither is it a closed city like Peking. The presidential trip in May will be historical on several counts, but it will not carry the mystique of the China visit.

Put perhaps the substance of the journey will be more rewarding. There is ample reason to believe the Russians may be as eager as the United States for at least a better understanding of differences.

The differences between the Kremlin and Peking loom big in Soviet priorities. The Russians will be interested in obtaining more concrete agreements with the U.S. than the Chinese did. In addition, Soviet economic problems have created a genuine need for expanded trade.

The Moscow trip should turn out to be more substantive and less ceremonial than the one to China. If the Russians do not pull one of their famous last minute switches.

Inspiring Example

Now that some seasoning has been applied to the issue of the 18-year old vote, it can be noted with conviction that many of the fears initially expressed have not come to pass. The under-21 voters have not stormed the ballot barricades. In fact, they have not developed any clear intent with their new franchise.

A few radicals have been voted into office: a working majority on the Berkeley, Calif., town council; two to the Ann Arbor, Mich., council. But even at Berkeley the radicals have found their ideas have to take a back seat to the realities of crime, taxation and street maintenance.

Less publicized are the few sub-21

officeholders who ran and won not with the aim of upsetting the system but because they wanted to get involved. One of these was Ron Hooker, a 19-year-old college student who became mayor of Newcomerstown, O., (pop. 4,500) last January.

Hooker finds he has "not enough time to do everything I want." He finds he is much in demand as a public speaker.

"I feel these speeches are a big part of my job," Hooker says. "I've got one main message — 'get involved.' Everyone should take an active part in the community."

That is a message which can only help cement relations between the generations.

15 Asian Climbers Die In Avalanche

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP) — Fifteen Asian climbers have been killed in the worst tragedy in the history of Himalayan exploration.

Four South Koreans, a Japanese cameraman and 10 Nepalese Sherpa guides were buried Monday by an avalanche that crashed down on the camp of a South Korean expedition attempting to scale 26,732-foot Mt. Manaslu, the world's eighth tallest peak.

Seven Koreans and two Sherpas survived.

The expedition leader, Jung Sup Kim, was lifted from a glacier by helicopter and flown back to Katmandu along with Hae Yun Byong, a 33-year-old Korean newsmen in the party, and one of Kim's brothers who was critically injured in the avalanche.

One of the dead Korean mountaineers also was a brother of the Kims. A fourth Kim brother, Ki Sup Kim, was swept away by strong wind and killed last year, 1,100 feet from the summit of Manaslu.

Byong said he was at Camp 2, with Jung Sup Kim and four other Korean climbers when about 200 tons of ice tumbled down about 3 a.m. and engulfed the forward camp 2,110 feet above them. It was at 21,320 feet.

"We saw a small dot about two kilometers from Camp 2 and at first thought it was a crevasse, but then it turned out to be an avalanche," Byong said.

Padding silently along jungle paths, the tiger relies mainly on superb hearing and eyesight to locate game.

Mrs. Robert Dumm Speaks To Emmett Chapel WSCS

WSCS of Emmett Chapel United Methodist Church met Wednesday evening at the church. Twenty members answered roll call by naming their favorite woman of the Bible.

Mrs. Dan Conkel read for devotions, James 2:17-18. Mrs. Conkel asked "What are you doing with your spare time?" She told of ways to use time to be better witnesses for Jesus Christ.

Mrs. Pryor Harmount told the story of Dorcas a woman of the Bible known for her many acts of charity. She told the society how Dorcas was raised from the dead.

Mrs. Robert Dumm talked of the Red Bird Mission in Kentucky. The society decided to send a donation to the mission.

Celebrating birthdays this month were, Mrs. Marvin Dumm, Mrs. Neal Frazier and Mrs. Fannie Cooper.

The Father-Son Banquet will be held with a carry-in on May 4th at the church. WSCS members will do the serving.

The Mother-Daughter Banquet will be a carry-in on May 10th at the church. Reservations are to be made with Mrs. Gordon Hannigan. The program will be by the mothers and daughters. Committee members are: Mrs. Jim Ullman, Mrs. Robert Valentine, Mrs. Ted Thomas, Mrs. Dan Conkel and Mrs. Kenneth Shepler.

Mrs. Robert Dumm from Good Shepherd United Methodist Church gave the program "Don't Worry! Be Thankful And Pray." She distributed questionnaires about worry. The results were that people from age 40-60 don't worry and people 35-40 worry the most. The reason most people worry is their families.

Mrs. Dumm talked about pressures today, the pressures we put on our children are tremendous. We are pleasure mad, power mad and possession mad people and this is the cause of so much pressure she said.

Mrs. Dumm explained reasonable concern is doing what you can do about your problem then stop. Unreasonable concern is doing what you can about your problem and then start worrying everyone else around you. Some people take a bushel basket of their trouble to the Lord. They pray and ask the Lord to take them from them but instead of leaving them with the Lord they take them back home with them.

Worry can show in physical and mental illness, worry can destroy us and separate us from God. You can use these problems as stepping stones or stumbling blocks, it's the little things in life that defeat us.

Mrs. Dumm read a poem she wrote, "The Master Teacher." She ended the program by saying "Keep your eyes on the master teacher and you'll quit worrying about not worrying."

Hostesses, Mrs. Dan Conkel, Mrs. Howard Smith and Mrs. Grace Streitenberger served a salad course.

Health Insurance Proposal Buried

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Rep. Wilbur D. Mills indicated Friday that his influential House Ways and Means Committee will not take any action this year on any national health insurance proposals.

"It could be the first thing on the agenda next year," Mills said at the annual meeting of the American Society of Internal Medicine.

The Arkansas Democrat, a declared presidential candidate, said there were too many other pressing matters—including work on the U.S. trade program and perhaps tax reform—before the committee for it to find time for national health insurance proposals before congress adjourns.

Mrs. Robert Dumm Speaks To Emmett Chapel WSCS

WSCS of Emmett Chapel United Methodist Church met Wednesday evening at the church. Twenty members answered roll call by naming their favorite woman of the Bible.

Mrs. Dan Conkel read devotions, James 2:17-18. Mrs. Conkel asked "What are you doing with your spare time?" She told of ways to use time to be better witnesses for Jesus Christ.

Mrs. Pryor Harmount told the story of Dorcas a woman of the Bible known for her many acts of charity. She told the society how Dorcas was raised from the dead.

Mrs. Robert Dumm talked of the Red Bird Mission in Kentucky. The society decided to send a donation to the mission.

Celebrating birthdays this month were, Mrs. Marvin Dumm, Mrs. Neal Frazier and Mrs. Fannie Cooper.

The Father-Son Banquet will be held with a carry-in on May 4th at the church. WSCS members will do the serving.

The Mother-Daughter Banquet will be a carry-in on May 10th at the church. Reservations are to be made with Mrs. Gordon Hannigan. The program will be by the mothers and daughters. Committee members are: Mrs. Jim Ullman, Mrs. Robert Valentine, Mrs. Ted Thomas, Mrs. Dan Conkel and Mrs. Kenneth Shepler.

Mrs. Robert Dumm from Good Shepherd United Methodist Church gave the program "Don't Worry! Be Thankful And Pray." She distributed questionnaires about worry. The results were that people from age 40-60 don't worry and people 35-40 worry the most. The reason most people worry is their families. Mrs. Dumm talked about pressures today, the pressures we put on our children are tremendous. We are pleasure mad, power mad and possession mad people and this is the cause of so much pressure she said.

Mrs. Dumm explained reasonable concern is doing what you can do about your problem then stop. Unreasonable concern is doing what you can about your problem and then start worrying everyone else around you. Some people take a bushel basket of their trouble to the Lord. They pray and ask the Lord to take them from them but instead of leaving them with the Lord they take them back home with them.

Worry can show in physical and mental illness, worry can destroy us and separate us from God. You can use these problems as stepping stones or stumbling blocks, it's the little things in life that defeat us. Mrs. Dumm read a poem she wrote, "The Master Teacher."

She ended the program by saying "Keep your eyes on the master teacher and you'll quit worrying about not worrying."

Hostesses, Mrs. Dan Conkel, Mrs. Howard Smith and Mrs. Grace Streitenberger served a salad course.

Health Insurance Proposal Buried

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Rep. Wilbur D. Mills indicated Friday that his influential House Ways and Means Committee will not take any action this year on any national health insurance proposals.

"It could be the first thing on the agenda next year," Mills said at the annual meeting of the American Society of Internal Medicine.

The Arkansas Democrat, a declared presidential candidate, said there were too many other pressing matters—including work on the U.S. trade program and perhaps tax reform—before the committee for it to find time for national health insurance proposals before congress adjourns.

A special honor was accorded Don Peters, who received an invitation to attend the Twenty-Sixth Annual World Affairs Institute in Cincinnati April 7 and 8.

One thousand special students from Indiana, Kentucky, Ohio, and West Virginia participated in the two-day meeting, as guests of their local Rotary Clubs. The topic for the 1972 Institute was "United States, Canada and Western Europe: Shared Heritage, Shared Problems."

Outstanding authorities from the field of international affairs briefed the students and conducted informal discussions. The Institute provided an opportunity for selected students to understand a major issue confronting the people and the government of the United States. This year's topic was concerned with problems common to industrial countries of the Atlantic Region, such as urban development and the environment, economic cooperation, and defense strategy.

Participants and their adult leaders, in addition to a comprehensive program of vital information about an important area of international concern, were afforded an opportunity to tour educational and cultural institutions in Cincinnati. The social highlight of the meeting was a dinner-dance at the famous Hall of Mirrors of the Netherland Hilton Hotel.

People Are Like Suds?

By PAM HANNAH

Have you ever looked in the top of a washing machine?

If you had a washing machine with glass on top, you could watch it just before it starts spinning. Suds are scattered out before the water comes. When the water pours in and the spinning starts, the suds begin to come together.

Have you ever watched people? People are much the same as the suds on the glass. People are not concerned with people they don't know. They stay in their own little group and stay away from unknowns. The suds don't come together until the water and spinning starts. Perhaps this could be a solution to the problem.

When people will not stick together throughout their lives, something is very wrong!

I believe this world is getting pretty bad if it takes a disaster to bring us together.

Dual Space Shuttle Bases Set For East, West Coasts

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Rep. Lou Frey, R-Fla., announced Friday the United States will build two bases for the space shuttle—at Cape Kennedy and at Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif.

In a telephone call to The Associated Press from his Washington office, Frey said the National Aeronautics and Space Administration would make the announcement at a news conference at Cape Kennedy.

Frey said that Cape Kennedy, America's premier launching site, would be used for initial testing of the space shuttle and that it would be the initial operational base for this reusable rocket plane.

Flight testing is expected to begin in 1976, with first manned test flights scheduled for 1978. The shuttle, capable of 100 or more trips into space, is expected to be operational late in the decade.

Frey said Cape Kennedy will be used mainly for NASA launches.

He said that in 1979 or 1980 the second base will be in operation at Vandenberg. This will be used mainly by the Defense Department for military missions.

The congressman said the Defense Department would pay for building its own base at Vandenberg.

Most NASA launchings require an east-west launching and Cape Kennedy is ideal for this type launch. The solid fuel booster rockets can be parachuted into the Atlantic off-shore without endangering civilized areas.

Coed Sauna At Vanderbilt

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — What does a man say to a naked lady he meets coming out of a Sauna bath?

"How are you doing," was all former Vanderbilt football player Les Lyle could come up with Thursday as he was confronted with two nude females in the previously all-male sauna bath at Vandy's McGugin Center.

No one really thought to make sure, but the young women were thought to be Vanderbilt coeds who took seriously a recent athletic department decision opening McGugin's facilities to all students.

Bill Kelly, the Vanderbilt equipment manager, said he didn't think there were any men in the sauna when the women strolled in, undressed, and basked in the 180-degree heat.

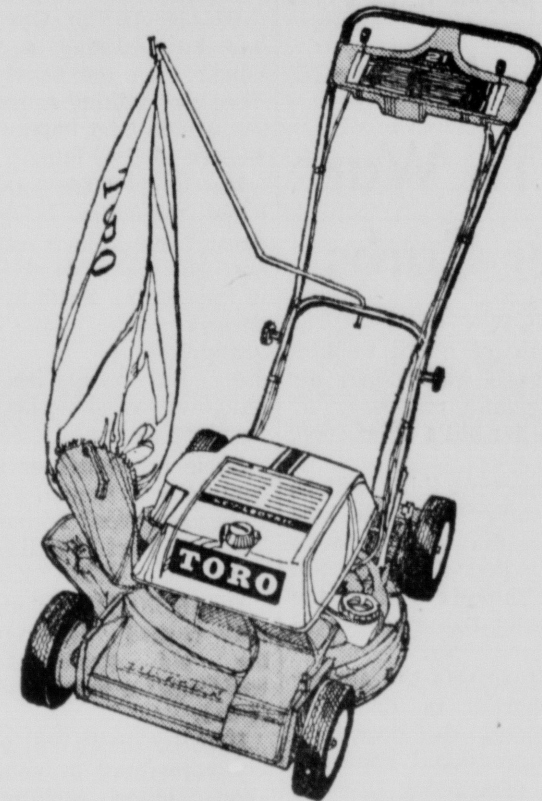

"But it didn't take long for a crowd to gather," Kelly said. "A lot of people who came to play handball took a sauna before going to the courts. That's usually the procedure after a handball match—rarely before."

By DEB IRWIN

At their March 29 meeting in the Pickaway County Historical Society meeting room, Beta Rho Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma Society had as their guests senior girls from Pickaway County who are planning to become teachers.

Greta is on leave of absence from her school in Norway, taking training at Ohio State University that will help her in special education. While here she visited schools in Pickaway County.

The girls enjoyed the evening and appreciated the invitation to attend.

Too much sun can be a danger, the American Cancer Society warns. Use hats, beach umbrellas and lotions to safeguard against skin cancer.

SUZI ERVIN

By ESTILL SALYERS

Suzi Ervin, is a new sophomore at TVHS. Suzi attended TV her freshman year, then moved to Russell, Ky., and attended Russell High School for eighteen weeks this year. She is now back at Teays Valley.

Suzi lives with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ervin, at their Route 1, Ashville, home. Suzi has one sister, Robin, and twin brothers, Dan and Don.

She likes people, cookies and ice cream sandwiches, blue, and the saying "Smile, God loves you." She dislikes grumpy moods and sophisticates.

Suzi is active in Rainbow, De M o l a y, 4-H, Volunteers, youth choir, and band.

When asked how she liked TVHS she replied, "It's really great to be back. Being a TV Vike is a dream come true. You don't know how much you appreciate helpful teachers and friendly, happy people and friends until you go to where there are few of them."

Legion Post Names Boys' State Picks

It was recently announced that the American Legion Post No. 730 of Ashville has selected four Junior Class boys to represent them at Boys' State this summer. Boys' State will be June 15 to 23 at Ashland College.

The four boys selected were David Acher, Wilson Ett, Jerry Sabine, and Steve White. Their alternates are Steve Thompson, Jim Williamson, Terry Lockard, and Jim Pabst.

Don Peters Attends Institute

A special honor was accorded Don Peters, who received an invitation to attend the Twenty-Sixth Annual World Affairs Institute in Cincinnati April 7 and 8.

Announcement of the selection was made last week by Howard Weaver, counselor at Teays Valley High School. As a public service, the Rotary Club defrayed expenses for participants.

One thousand special students from Indiana, Kentucky, Ohio, and West Virginia participated in the two-day meeting, as guests of their local Rotary Clubs. The topic for the 1972 Institute was "United States, Canada and Western Europe: Shared Heritage, Shared Problems."

Outstanding authorities from the field of international affairs briefed the students and conducted informal discussions. The Institute provided an opportunity for selected students to understand a major issue confronting the people and the government of the United States. This year's topic was concerned with problems common to industrial countries of the Atlantic Region, such as urban development and the environment, economic cooperation, and defense strategy.

Participants and their adult leaders, in addition to a comprehensive program of vital information about an important area of international concern, were afforded an opportunity to tour educational and cultural institutions in Cincinnati. The social highlight of the meeting was a dinner-dance at the famous Hall of Mirrors of the Netherland Hilton Hotel.

The World Affairs Institute is organized and sponsored by the Cincinnati Council on World Affairs, Avco Broadcasting Corporation, and Rotary Club of Cincinnati.

People Are Like Suds?

By PAM HANNAH

Have you ever looked in the top of a washing machine?

If you had a washing machine with glass on top, you could watch it just before it starts spinning. Suds are scattered out before the water comes. When the water pours in and the spinning starts, the suds begin to come together.

Have you ever watched people? People are much the same as the suds on the glass. People are not concerned with people they don't know. They stay in their own little group and stay away from unknowns. The suds don't come together until the water and spinning starts. Perhaps this could be a solution to the problem.

When people will not stick together throughout their lives, something is very wrong!

I believe this world is getting pretty bad if it takes a disaster to bring us together.

Easter Contest Winners Named

By SHARON REED

Teays Valley Latin Club sponsored a Mr. and Mrs. Easter Bunny Contest recently. Several of the teachers who participated carried jars so that students could put money in them. One penny was considered one vote.

On March 29 the winners were announced. They were Mrs. Phoebe Engle and Mr. John Karg.

About $80 was collected. This money is to go to the exchange student program.

Exchange Student Is Speaker

Sue Derring, junior, was guest speaker at the April 4 meeting of the Ashville Kiwanis Club.

Other honored guests were Mrs. Phoebe Engle, adviser of the exchange student program at TVHS, and Connie Morrison, a student with Sue at Teays Valley.

Mrs. Engle concluded the program with an explanation of how local high school students participate in the student exchange program. Presently the Latin Club is raising money to send a TV student to Central America this summer.

Following the regular meeting, the board of directors agreed to contribute $150 to the Teays Valley High School student exchange program.

Dual Space Shuttle Bases Set For East, West Coasts

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Rep. Lou Frey, R-Fla., announced Friday the United States will build two bases for the space shuttle—at Cape Kennedy and at Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif.

In a telephone call to The Associated Press from his Washington office, Frey said the National Aeronautics and Space Administration would make the announcement at a news conference at Cape Kennedy.

Frey said that Cape Kennedy, America's premier launching site, would be used for initial testing of the space shuttle and that it would be the initial operational base for this reusable rocket plane.

Flight testing is expected to begin in 1976, with first manned test flights scheduled for 1978. The shuttle, capable of 100 or more trips into space, is expected to be operational late in the decade.

Frey said Cape Kennedy will be used mainly for NASA launchings.

He said that in 1979 or 1980 the second base will be in operation at Vandenberg. This will be used mainly by the Defense Department for military missions.

The congressman said the Defense Department would pay for building its own base at Vandenberg.

Most NASA launchings require an east-west launching and Cape Kennedy is ideal for this type launch. The solid fuel booster rockets can be parachuted into the Atlantic off-shore without endangering civilized areas.

Coed Sauna At Vanderbilt

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — What does a man say to a naked lady he meets coming out of a Sauna bath?

"How are you doing?" was all former Vanderbilt football player Les Lyle could come up with Thursday as he was confronted with two nude females in the previously all-male sauna bath at Vandy's McGugin Center.

No one really thought to make sure, but the young women were thought to be Vanderbilt coeds who took seriously a recent athletic department decision opening McGugin's facilities to all students.

Bill Kelly, the Vanderbilt equipment manager, said he didn't think there were any men in the sauna when the women strolled in, undressed, and basked in the 180-degree heat.

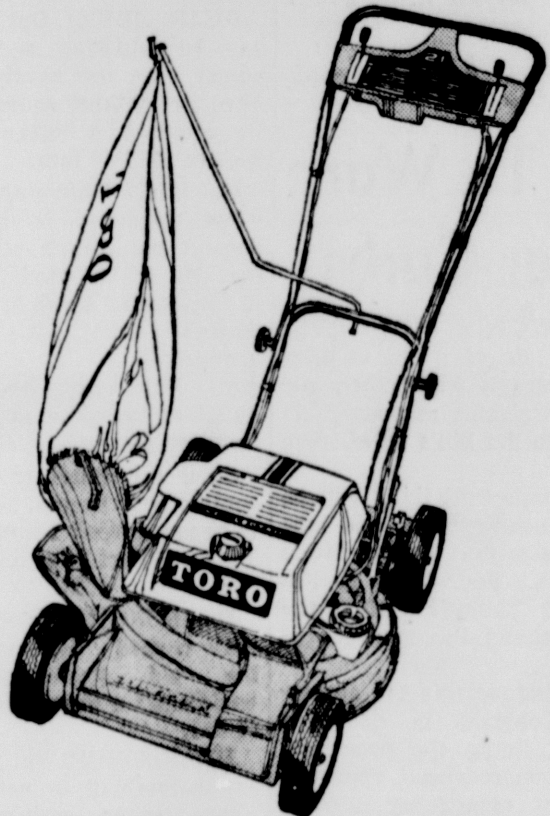

"But it didn't take long for a crowd to gather," Kelly said. "A lot of people who came to play handball took a sauna before going to the courts. That's usually the procedure after a handball match—rarely before."

Doctor Is Indicted For Tax Evasion

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — Dr. C. Walton Lillehei, a pioneer in open heart surgery and chairman of the department of surgery at Cornell University, has been indicted on federal income tax evasion charges.

The indictment handed down by a federal grand jury here Thursday charged Lillehei reported income of $329,000 during the years 1964-1968 when he should have reported income of $589,000. It said he owed taxes amounting to $125,100.

Daughter Left Out Of Son's Wedding

DEAR ABBY I am a widow with a son and daughter. My son is being married in a few months and my daughter has not been included in the wedding party. Naturally she is very hurt and so am I.

I spoke to my son about it, and he said it's up to the bride's family to decide on all that, so he is staying out of it. The bride's sister will be her maid of honor, and the other girls in the wedding party are all friends and relatives of the bride.

My daughter is tall, attractive, single, and 23. When she realized that she wasn't going to be in the wedding party she was so humiliated that she made plans to be out of town.

Now, do you want a good laugh? When my son said his girl wanted a fancy wedding but her people couldn't afford it, I offered to pay for it. So now I

Public Holds Key To War Power Curbs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The ultimate fate of a bill to limit the president's war powers depends on public response, according to the bill's chief sponsor.

"The important thing will be how the country feels and how it manifests that feeling to its legislators," Sen. Jacob K. Javits said Thursday after the Senate passed the measure 68 to 18.

The bill reasserts the authority of Congress in declaring war and limits the president, without congressional approval, to 30-day emergency use of U.S. troops to repel attack and rescue Americans. The measure is opposed by the Nixon administration.

The House has approved a weaker version expressing the sense of Congress that there should be prior consultations whenever possible when the president acts in emergencies.

Sen. William F. Spong Jr., D-Va., floor manager of the Senate bill, said he had to assume that more specific limitations were considered and rejected, and that as a result the future of the bill in conference remains uncertain.

In a statement after the Senate vote, Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., listed what he said were 21 constitutional and practical questions that remain unanswered after 11 days of Senate debate on the bill.

"The war powers bill would not prevent another Vietnam," he said. "The war powers bill might incite World War III by depriving the president of flexibility to react to unexpected threats promptly."

Goldwater said there have been 201 hostilities in America's history and only five of them have been declared.

Muskie Proposes Food Cut Freeze

YORK, Pa. (AP) — Sen. Edmund S. Muskie proposed Friday a 90-day freeze on food prices.

"During this period, the cost of groceries could decrease but not increase," the Maine senator told newsmen. "The only exceptions would be for a few goods that are presently priced at abnormally low levels because of seasonal market fluctuations."

Muskie, campaigning in this eastern Pennsylvania community for the state's Democratic presidential primary election April 25, said the freeze could be terminated after 60 days but only if food prices had sufficiently stabilized.

The senator said the food price ceiling should apply to grocery chains and middlemen, but not farmers.

Woman Bargain Hunter Puts Out Shopping Guide

By DEE WEDEMEYER
Associated Press Writer
DEARBORN, Mich. (AP) — Stalk the bounteous bargain, travel America's turnpikes with fabulous side trips to factory outlets and visit wondrous Reading, Pa., the bargain capital of the United States.

At last for bargain hunters, a guide to the nation's little-publicized factory outlets has been compiled by Iris Ellis, a 45-year-old Dearborn woman.

The book, titled "S.O.S.—Shop Outlet Stores and Save on Shopping," lists 300 outlets in 18 states. She says an updated edition will cover 48 states.

By her definition, a factory outlet is one that sells slightly irregular merchandise, discontinued lines, samples and items which have been over-produced. She does not include discount stores in the book.

She claims the best outlets are in the eastern United States with Reading, Pa., which has 24 known to her, the most densely discounted.

Mrs. Ellis once traveled to Pittsburgh by way of West Virginia so she could purchase wine glasses at $3 instead of $7.95. Another time she stopped at outlets along both coasts of Florida.

"People can see so much more and have so much more if they include a factory outlet in a trip," she said.

Even the booklet, which sells for $2.50, can be bought at a discount. Groups get a reduced rate and if anyone sends Mrs. Ellis the name of a previously unlisted outlet, she will send the book free.

A yearly physical checkup is a special safeguard against cancer. The American Cancer Society reminds everyone that it's what you don't know about cancer that can hurt you.

My daughter is tall, attractive, single, and 23. When she realized that she wasn't going to be in the wedding party she was so humiliated that she made plans to be out of town.

Now, do you want a good laugh? When my son said his girl wanted a fancy wedding but her people couldn't afford it, I offered to pay for it. So now I am footing the bill for a wedding and reception for 150 guests!

Had I known things would turn out this way I never would have offered to pay for it. I think I will just tell my son that he can pay for it. And I will also leave town.

I would like your advice, Abby.

HURT MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: It is difficult to believe that the bride and her family are not aware that they have hurt your daughter by excluding her from the wedding party. But it's possible. Leave your son out of it, but ask the bride to please reconsider and include your daughter. But don't feel that because you offered to foot the bill they are obligated to include her. And for you to now refuse to foot the bill for that reason would be wrong.

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter has been dating a very fine young man for nearly a year. They are talking marriage, and we couldn't be happier because we are fond of him.

But lately I have noticed that when they are in public, he doesn't pay much attention to her. He seems more interested in impressing those around. (He dances with all the old grandmothers at weddings, etc.) But when he and my daughter are alone he couldn't be nicer to her.

Since my daughter has never complained, should I bring this to her attention? I wouldn't want her to be hurt later on.

JERSEY MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Skip it. She may regard "dancing with all the old grandmothers at weddings" a thoughtful gesture. (I do).

DEAR ABBY: Will you please say something in your column about letter writing? Some people seem to think that they cannot send a letter to a friend or relative unless it is LONG, so they put off writing until they have more time.

I don't know about others, but for me, a SHORT letter now is a lot more appreciated than a long letter later. Thank you.

DEAR SHORTY: And thank YOU! I agree. Most long letters are so long and recipients put off reading them until they have more time.

Bethlehem Steel Freezes Prices

BETHLEHEM, Pa. (AP) — Bethlehem Steel Corp. says it has clamped a price freeze for the rest of 1972 rolled steel products, used in the automobile, construction, appliance and other large industries.

After the announcement Thursday by the nation's second largest steel-maker, C. Jackson Grayson Jr., chairman of the federal Price Commission said the action "can be expected to have a stabilizing influence on a large sector of the economy."

Bethlehem would not expand on its reasons for the self-imposed freeze other than to say it was "to assist its customers in their forward planning."

TOUGH TIGER — Circleville's ace fireballer, Don Valentine, sends another sizzler streaking toward the plate as the Hurricane hitter digs in. The big righthander gained his third straight win Friday when he shutout Wilmington, 3-0. The Tiger catcher is Paul England.

Circleville Nine Blanks Wilmington Hurricane, 3-0

A fine pitching performance by Don Valentine and timely hitting by the Tigers was too much for Wilmington as Circleville shutout the Hurricane, 3-0, Friday on the Red and Black diamond.

Valentine took charge of the game with a curve ball on the outside edge of the plate and a blazing fastball on the inside that kept the Wilmington hitters off balance.

He gave up five hits, all singles, walked one and sent six Hurricane swingers back to the bench empty handed to gain his third win of the season without a loss.

Hill handled the mound duties for Wilmington. He was rapped for eight hits, struckout three and didn't issue a walk.

TOM Taylor carried the big wood to the plate for Circleville and put it to good use with a long double and a pair of singles.

Hill Denies Playing Well Despite Monsanto Golf Lead

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — "I'll finish," Dave Hill said. "But I'm sure not predicting any victory."

"In fact, the way I'm playing, I might not even finish. I'm playing so bad I might get killed out there."

The laconic Hill, who went

Lakers Stop Bucks Drive; Win 108-105

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Los Angeles Lakers, their prestige tarnished and confidence shaken just six days before, suddenly have the Milwaukee Bucks' National Basketball Association crown in serious jeopardy.

The Lakers, just a basket or two from becoming knockout victims for most of the fourth quarter, rallied behind Gail Goodrich's six points in the last one minute and 35 seconds for a 108-105 victory Friday night.

Humiliated 93-72 in the series opener last Sunday after their record 69 regular season victories, the Lakers now have a 2-1 lead in the best of seven Western Conference playoff finals. Game four is scheduled here at 3:50 p.m. CST Sunday.

Goodrich scored 30 points, Jim McMillian 27 and Jerry West 22 for the Lakers but Wilt Chamberlain may have made the biggest contribution of all.

The 7-foot-1 veteran was outscored 33-7 and outrebounded 21-14 by 7-foot-2 Kareem Abdul-Jabbar. But Chamberlain blocked nine shots, six of them by Abdul-Jabbar, and distracted the Milwaukee superstar to the point where he made only 15 of 37 shots.

"I guess I'd have to say it was my best game against him in some time, but this is a team game and I had help," Chamberlain said. "You can't worry about trying to beat Milwaukee by stopping him cold, because it's an impossible feat."

Mike Corde Signs Bobcats Grant-In-Aid

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—Mike Corde, a 6-foot Mason County, Ky., guard and brother of Ohio University's All-Mid-American basketball performer Tom Corde, has signed a grant-in-aid with the Bobcats.

The younger Corde averaged nearly 20 points a game in his senior season while Tom was hitting 17.4 a contest in earning unanimous all-conference honors.

Circleville Linksters 3rd In Tri Match

Circleville's golf team finished third Friday in a triangular match with Unioto and Hillsboro at the Pickaway Country Club.

The Tigers lost 11-0 to Hillsboro and dropped a 10½-½ decision to Unioto. Unioto defeated Hillsboro 8-3 to take top honors in the event.

Greg Williams had a 43 for Circleville, Ken Yamarick shot a 52, Dave Grigg fired a 55, T. Spellacy carded 46 and Mike Hamrick shot 52.

K. Frydryk of Hillsboro took medalist honors with a fine 38. Circleville will host Chillicothe and Greenfield Monday at the Pickaway Country Club.

Taylor singled, moved to second on a one-bagger by Truex and raced home when England delivered a one-bagger.

Wilmington threatened in the fifth inning when Hill reached first on an error. He moved to second on a sacrifice and took third on a single by Tim Martin.

BUT a fine double play from Truex to Taylor to Randy Sprout killed the rally and took Valentine out of the inning.

Cleveland Indians Opener To Be Without Hoopla Today

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—All the hoopla will be missing today from the Cleveland Indians home opener against the Milwaukee Brewers—there'll be no bands, no pregame ceremonies, no color guard, no politicians and no speeches.

That's part of the aftermath of the 10-day baseball players' strike. The crowd is expected to be smaller—about 25,000 instead of 40,000—with an 85 percent chance of rain and the game being telecast locally.

New Indians owner Nick Mileti said he decided to do away with elaborate ceremonies because there's been enough of a wait for the season to start.

Mileti, who also owns the Cleveland Barons, said Friday that the Indians, under his ownership are now "the best-financed club in the major leagues because there are

Squires Rip N.Y. Nets; Win 138-91

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — The New York Nets hope to recover their composure and along with it their winning playoff ways tonight when they tangle with the Virginia Squires in the second game of their best-of-seven American Basketball Association Eastern Division finals.

The New Yorkers were soundly thumped by the Squires 138-91 in Thursday night's opener.

The Nets managed only 35 points in the first half, a figure helped along by their 13 points in the second quarter.

But New York coach Lew Carnesecca was philosophical about the loss. "What does it matter if you lose by one or 40," he said. "That game doesn't bother me anymore. I'm thinking about tonight."

Rick Barry, who scored only 12 points in the opener, had thoughts not unlike those of his coach. "I hope they (the Squires) got it out of their system," he said after the shellacking.

The Squires, meanwhile, have won their five playoff games, including a four-game sweep of the Floridians in the semifinals, and hope to extend the string to six tonight.

Toledo Mud Hens Top Richmond, 5-4

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Dave Bike's three-run pinch-hit homer capped a five-run, two-out ninth inning rally Friday night that gave the Toledo Mud Hens a 5-4 International League season-opener victory over the Richmond Braves.

The Mud Hens had been shut out by Richmond pitchers Dave Kester and Larry Jaster until a pair of hits, a fielders' choice and a walk loaded the bases with two out in the ninth.

A walk and an error gave the Hurricane a pair of base runners in the seventh inning, with two outs, but Valentine retired the next batter on an infield grounder to end the contest.

Circleville has now defeated Greenfield, Washington C. H., and Wilmington and played a 1-1 tie with Hillsboro in South Central Ohio League play.

The Tigers will be at Miami Trace 4:30 p.m. Wednesday with Greg Hoskins on the mound.

people in our town who care."

The sports promoter, who also has assumed the titles of team president and chairman of the Indians board of directors, said the team "has great strengths in the town, and we have to build on them."

"We're in the people business," Mileti said. "This means service, caring, bringing together. We've done it before and we'll do it again. The question is not where are the people, but where is the attraction."

"If a fan doesn't come to the Stadium, it's our fault."

The optimistic mood also prevailed in rookie manager Ken Aspromonte.

Upset by predictions that the Tribe would finish last and that today's game would be a preview of the Indians' battle to escape the cellar and finish ahead of the Brewers, Aspromonte said:

"How could anybody pick us for last? All you have to do is look at our roster. There's only one club—Baltimore—that can field nine better guys than I can."

"We're on a par with, or better than, four clubs—Boston, Detroit, New York and Milwaukee," Aspromonte said.

Opening pitchers today will be Gaylord Perry, 16-12, for Cleveland and Bill Parsons, 13-17, for Milwaukee.

MSU Wins Big Ten Doubleheader

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Defending champion Michigan State successfully opened its Big Ten baseball season Friday, sweeping a doubleheader from Illinois 5-1 in the opener and shutting out the Illini 1-0 in the finale.

Minnesota, runnerup to MSU last season, also opened with dual victories, trouncing Indiana's Hoosiers 8-1 and 6-1.

Two other twin bills in Big Ten premiers were split. Purdue earned a 3-1 victory over Michigan on first baseman Tom Christenberry's bases loaded single in the first inning of the opener. But Michigan came back for an 8-0 win in the second game.

Catcher Jim Sundberg's grand slam homer in the fifth inning of the nightcap gave Iowa a 9-3 victory over Ohio State. Bill Sero's eight-inning bases empty blast gave the Buckeyes a 3-2 win in the opener.

A scheduled non-conference doubleheader Friday pitting Wisconsin against Northern Illinois was cancelled due to rain.

Four doubleheaders are on tap Saturday with Purdue traveling to Michigan State, Illinois invading Michigan, Indian playing host to Iowa, and Minnesota taking on Ohio State at Columbus.

Westfall Drops Braves Shutout 8-4 Game To Piketon In SVC East Clinton

East Clinton, banging out five runs in their half of the fourth inning, handed Westfall its first baseball loss of the season 8-4 Friday afternoon on the Mustang diamond.

East Clinton jumped on Westfall starter Mike Peterson for two runs in the first inning and then erupted for their five run fourth frame before the Mustangs could get on the scoreboard.

Westfall scored a single run in the bottom of the fifth inning and added three more scores in the sixth before East Clinton ended the scoring with a tally in the seventh inning.

Peterson allowed six hits, two walks and struck out a batter in his three inning stint. Ted Musselman, who finished for the Mustangs, allowed seven hits and four walks. He struck out seven batters.

Gaskins went all the way for East Clinton, fanning eight Mustangs, and allowing six hits and walks.

Musselman and Peterson collected two singles each for Westfall. Scott Riddle and Doug McKay got the other Mustang one-base hits.

Hamilton had three singles for East Clinton.

Both teams committed two errors. Westfall travels to Adena Monday.

Golf Starts With A Win At Logan Elm

Logan Elm's golf team blasted Berne Union, 10-2, in a match play event Friday at Upper Lansdowne.

Rick Howard and Rod Howard both picked up 2½ points for the Braves. Bob Helwagen added two points and Marty Fullen tallied three points for the winners.

This is the first year the Braves have competed on the links and Coach Harry Hoffer's charges came up with a fine effort in their first outing.

They will take to the fairways again Friday in a scrimmage with Circleville at Pickaway County Club.

Braves Shutout 8-4 Game To Piketon In SVC

Behind the hitting and pitching of junior righthander Doug Marshall, the Logan Elm Braves rolled to a 10-0 shutout over host Piketon in Scioto Valley Conference action Friday.

Marshall went the route on the mound, fanning 11, walking two, allowing only two hits — a bunt and an opposite field single.

Only one runner reached second base for Piketon. In addition to his outstanding mound performance, Marshall also wielded the hot bat for the Braves.

In five trips to the plate he banged out four hits — a single, two doubles and a homerun. Gary Francis cracked three singles. Rick Blankenship doubled and tripled in four times at the plate. Wurtie Teets singled and doubled in four trips. Steve DeBruin doubled in two trips. Dane Conley singled and Greg and Mark Justus both doubled.

THE Braves blasted nine extra base hits in the tilt. They wasted no time in taking command of the tilt, scoring four in the first inning on singles by Holbrook and Francis, doubles by Justus and Teets and a triple by Blankenship.

In the second inning they scored three more on singles by Holbrook, Francis, Teets and Marshall and a double by Blankenship. The Braves batted around in both of the first two innings.

The LE run in the fourth inning came on a leadoff homer by Marshall. In the sixth they scored two runs on doubles by Marshall and Greg Justus and a single by Conley.

The next game for the Braves is Tuesday at Adena, a makeup of a game that was halted by rain Wednesday. Teays Valley was originally on the schedule for Tuesday.

Logan Elm has a 6-0 overall record and is now 1-0 in the Scioto Valley Conference.

Cincinnati Bengals Sign Sherman White

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Bengals have signed the first of their highest choices in the 1972 National Football League draft.

Defensive end Sherman White, their top selection, signed a contract Friday but terms were not disclosed. The University of California student did receive a bonus.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our husband and father, Herbert V. Flannigan, who departed this life April 13, 1971.
A silent thought, a secret tear
keeps his memory ever dear.
Until that time, we know not when,
In God's plan we will meet again.
Sadly missed by wife, Zola

In loving memory of my daughter,

Cancer has seven warning signals: Change in bowel or bladder habits; a sore that does not heal; unusual bleeding or discharge; thickening or lump in breast or elsewhere; indigestion or difficulty in swallowing; obvious change in wart or mole; nagging cough or hoarseness. If you have a signal, see your doctor right away, the American Cancer Society says.

Crane Crash Cleared At Work Site

Deputy Sheriff Bob Hoover provided emergency escort to a crane owned by the McFarland Construction Co. that had to be used to clear the wreckage of another crane that blocked railroad tracks at the Circleville-Tarleton Road.

Hoover said a crane, owned by Howard Phillips Inc. Construction Co. that was repairing the Circleville-Tarleton railroad overpass, toppled over while lifting a steel beam.

Operator of the crane, Robert Phillips, 27, Columbus, said the 70-foot boom of the crane flipped back over the cab, causing the 50-ton crane to fall to the tracks.

The crane sustained heavy damage.

Pickaway County Sheriff Dwight Radcliff arrested Ronald F. Secrest, 18, Route 3, Chillicothe, and a 17-year-old juvenile, Route 1, Frankfort, in connection with the April 12 theft of merchandise at War-nock's Service Station.

The two are charged with separate counts of breaking and entering and grand larceny.

Two Wrecks Investigated

Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputies investigated two accidents Friday afternoon that occurred almost simultaneously and left two people injured.

Philip Kasler, 16, 325 Edwards Road, was treated and released from Berger Hospital suffering from multiple head and body abrasions after he lost control of his 250cc motorcycle on private property at the North Drive-In 5:15 p.m. Friday.

Deputy Lowell Ferguson investigated the crash.

Deputy Don Thompson charged Ronald G. Boggs, 33, Columbus, with driving left of center following his investigation of a two vehicle wreck on Route 104, just south of Route 56, 5:25 p.m. Friday.

Boggs was treated and released from Berger Hospital after complaining of scalp and elbow lacerations and body abrasions.

According to Thompson, Boggs was southbound on Route 104 when he lost control of his 1971 model truck while attempting to pass a car driven by Frederick A. Sanford, 21, Route 1, Chillicothe.

After pulling into the passing lane, Boggs drove off the left side of the road. He regained control of the truck, but struck the left front side of Sanford's car, veered left again and ended in a field.

His truck was a total loss. Sanford was uninjured, but his car sustained minor damage.

Relations Thaw On Arctic Ice

LITTLE DIOMEDE ISLAND, Alaska (AP) — While statesmen and diplomats meet to thaw American-Soviet relationships, Eskimos of both countries recently met on the ice-pack near the top of the world to rehab their heritage and swap cigarettes.

The meetings were held on international Bering Sea ice where 2½ miles separate the Soviet territory of Big Diomed Island and Little Diomed Island of Alaska.

American and Soviet military forces observed the meetings through telescopes but U.S. military spokesmen said "we don't consider it a military matter."

The Siberian Eskimos were moved from Big Diomed Island in 1947 to the mainland and last month some of them returned for a midwinter hunt for white fox.

Bankruptcies Probe Links Sen. Hartke To Alleged Deal

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — A any deal or having asked Manuel for $1,000.

once-wealthy Kokomo, Ind., real estate operator claimed to have provided cash, office furniture and the use of his Cadillac in an effort to escape testifying in Indianapolis bankruptcy hearings, the Dayton Journal Herald said today.

The newspaper said George Manuel alleged in a suit filed in Washington, D.C., that the deal was offered by an aide to U.S. Sen. Vance R. Hartke, D-Ind. Manuel identified the aide as Jacques H. LeRoy.

The Journal Herald is midway through an 11-part copyrighted series on the possible existence of an Indiana bankruptcy reorganization hearings for the American National and Republic National real estate trusts. Manual was property manager of both trusts.

Manuel said he wanted to get out of testifying at the hearings, held at intervals over a period of months.

Judith M. Barger, office manager of Manuel's management firm at the time and now his wife, swore in an affidavit that LeRoy offered Sen. Hartke's influence in getting Manuel off the stand.

The price of the deal, the Manuels said, was $750 in cash, use of Manuel's Cadillac, and office furniture and equipment for Hartke's new Indianapolis office in Essex House.

The Journal Herald said Charles J. Bowman swore in an affidavit that he and his daughter delivered the furniture on Manuel's behalf to the Essex House office of Sen. Hartke in May or June of 1968.

Hartke's office and LeRoy both refused requests for interviews, the newspaper said.

Mrs. Manuel swore that LeRoy contacted her after the cash, furniture and Cadillac had been delivered and told her to have Manuel contact James L. Tuohy, an attorney.

She said Tuohy was supposed to intervene with U.S. District Judge James E. Noland of Indianapolis, a Hartke nominee, to keep Manuel off the stand.

Manuel contended he did not contact Tuohy and that the attorney demanded an additional $1,000. Manuel said he refused to pay, and the alleged deal fell through.

Tuohy denied being a part of

Hoffman Murder Hearing Held

MENTOR, Ohio (AP) — Mentor police prosecutor Milton R. Stern said Friday at a preliminary hearing for Howard Thomas Hoffman III that five .32-caliber bullets with their noses hollowed out in home-made fashion were used to kill the defendant's parents, Thomas Hoffman Jr., 48, and his wife, Laura Jane, 47.

The Mentor couple was found slain in their home March 14. Hoffman had a fractured skull and had been shot three times. His wife had been shot twice. Their home was also set afire in an attempt to cover up the slayings, police said.

The younger Hoffman, 22, of Chagrin Falls was arrested 16 days later and charged with two counts of first-degree murder in connection with the slayings. He pleaded innocent to the charges the following day.

"They were .32-caliber lead bullets and hollow-pointed into dum-dum bullets with no purpose other than death," said Stern, explaining that hollowed-out bullets are deadlier than regular bullets.

Stern said the state would show that Hoffman killed his parents "in a manner that connotes utmost purposefulness and deliberate and premeditated planning," and that he fired the gun and hollowed the bullets out himself.

After Stern called five prosecution witnesses, the four-hour hearing was recessed until Monday afternoon.

Clean-Up . . .

see that all debris is properly disposed of.

Tuesday through Friday, the service department will pick up free of charge all accumulated trash and litter collected by city residents.

On Tuesday, trash collection will cover an area from the southern city limit to Ohio St. Ohio Street to Mound Street will have pickup on Wednesday; Mound St. to Hargus Creek will be serviced Thursday and the entire area north of Hargus to the city limits will be handled Friday.

For Saturday, the program has slated a clean-up of Hargus Creek with the assistance of volunteer youth groups. Volunteer adult supervisors are being sought to meet with the young men and women in the A & P parking lot at 9 a.m. Saturday and help supervise the work crews in various areas along the creek.

The project is dedicated to entirely clearing the waterway of debris, however, large items which have been dumped along the banks, including some appliances, will not be able to be hauled out by the youths. The Chamber and city hope to interest the community to continue the campaign at a later date and get these items removed.

Check points will be set up along the creek where trash will be piled by workers for pick-up by city crews.

SHOULD a resident's cleaning project result in an exceptionally large amount or exceptionally large items, the service crew would appreciate a call to the Circleville information office — 474-8484 — with a report of the items and location.

Also, a 4-H group of 8, 9 and 10 year-old members has volunteered to clean the grounds of Berger Hospital Saturday morning.

The effect sought is a cleaner, more beautiful Circleville — and a city that is safer for its inhabitants and visitors.

City officials and the Chamber of Commerce ask that all residents do their part to make the spring cleaning project a success.

License Tags Stolen Friday

Dayton Wins Case, Loses $126,000

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The City of Dayton won the case but lost $126,000, officials said Friday after learning of an Ohio Supreme Court ruling.

The officials added they don't know where they're going to get the money.

The Supreme Court upheld lower courts in denying retroactive overtime pay to Dayton policemen for 15-minute periods they had to serve before and after eight-hour shifts.

The officers spent the time in lining up and in preparatory work.

The courts ruled that the policemen were not entitled to retroactive pay because they waived their claims for overtime in endorsing paychecks.

However, under the rulings, the city must pay the overtime from the time the suit was filed, on May 6, 1966, until the city abolished the 15-minute periods Oct. 21, 1966.

Officials said this would amount to about $126,000.

Dayton Finance Director Winton Parent said he did not know where the city would get the money. He implied the police force might have to be reduced.

"We're in enough trouble without that," Parent said. "I know of no way of bailing this out except cutting the man on the street . . . cutting service."

Dayton has been in an austere program for about a year because of refusal of voters to authorize an increase in the one per cent city income tax.

Drug Pusher Shot To Death

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Police shot and killed an alleged drug pusher Friday night after the man reportedly slugged an officer and attempted to escape arrest.

Killed was William E. Koslofsky, 24, of Columbus.

Narcotics Bureau Chief Frank Peterfy said two undercover officers had arranged to meet with Koslofsky to buy 300 LSD capsules after having made a smaller purchase earlier in the day.

After the sale was completed, Peterfy said, the officers identified themselves and told Koslofsky he was under arrest.

Koslofsky then struck one of the detectives over the head and fled down an alley until he was felled by one of seven bullets fired by the two policemen, according to Peterfy.

Two Wrecks Investigated

Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputies investigated two accidents Friday afternoon that occurred almost simultaneously and left two people injured.

Philip Kasler, 16, 325 Edwards Road, was treated and released from Berger Hospital suffering from multiple head and body abrasions after he lost control of his 250cc motorcycle on private property at the North Drive-In 5:15 p.m. Friday.

Deputy Lowell Ferguson investigated the crash.

Deputy Don Thompson charged Ronald G. Boggs, 33, Columbus, with driving left of center following his investigation of a two vehicle wreck on Route 104, just south of Route 56, 5:25 p.m. Friday.

Boggs was treated and released from Berger Hospital after complaining of scalp and elbow lacerations and body abrasions.

According to Thompson, Boggs was southbound on Route 104 when he lost control of his 1971 model truck while attempting to pass a car driven by Frederick A. Sanford, 21, Route 1, Chillicothe.

After pulling into the passing lane, Boggs drove off the left side of the road. He regained control of the truck, but struck the left front side of Sanford's car, veered left again and ended in a field.

His truck was a total loss. Sanford was uninjured, but his car sustained minor damage.

Relations Thaw On Arctic Ice

LITTLE DIOMEDE ISLAND, Alaska (AP) — While statesmen and diplomats meet to thaw American-Soviet relationships, Eskimos of both countries recently met on the ice-pack near the top of the world to rehab their heritage and swap cigarettes.

The meetings were held on international Bering Sea ice where 2½ miles separate the Soviet territory of Big Diomed Island and Little Diomed Island of Alaska.

American and Soviet military forces observed the meetings through telescopes but U.S. military spokesmen said "we don't consider it a military matter."

The Siberian Eskimos were moved from Big Diomed in 1947 to the mainland and last month some of them returned for a midwinter hunt for white fox.

Bankruptcies Probe Links Sen. Hartke To Alleged Deal

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — A once-wealthy Kokomo, Ind., real estate operator claimed to have provided cash, office furniture and the use of his Cadillac in an effort to escape testifying in Indianapolis bankruptcy hearings, the Dayton Journal Herald said today.

The newspaper said George Manuel alleged in a suit filed in Washington, D.C., that the deal was offered by an aide to U.S. Sen. Vance R. Hartke, D-Ind. Manuel identified the aide as Jacques H. LeRoy.

The Journal Herald is midway through an 11-part copyrighted series on the possible existence of an Indiana bankruptcy reorganization hearings for the American National and Republic National real estate trusts. Manuel was property manager of both trusts.

Manuel said he wanted to get out of testifying at the hearings, held at intervals over a period of months.

Judith M. Barger, office manager of Manuel's management firm at the time and now his wife, swore in an affidavit that LeRoy offered Sen. Hartke's influence in getting Manuel off the stand.

The price of the deal, the Manuels said, was $750 in cash, use of Manuel's Cadillac, and office furniture and equipment for Hartke's new Indianapolis office in Essex House.

The Journal Herald said Charles J. Bowman swore in an affidavit that he and his daughter delivered the furniture on Manuel's behalf to the Essex House office of Sen. Hartke in May or June of 1968.

Hartke's office and LeRoy both refused requests for interviews, the newspaper said.

Mrs. Manuel swore that LeRoy contacted her after the cash, furniture and Cadillac had been delivered and told her to have Manuel contact James L. Tuohy, an attorney.

She said Tuohy was supposed to intervene with U.S. District Judge James E. Noland of Indianapolis, a Hartke nominee, to keep Manuel off the stand.

Manuel contended he did contact Tuohy and that the attorney demanded an additional $1,000. Manuel said he refused to pay, and the alleged deal fell through.

Tuohy denied being a part of

Hoffman Murder Hearing Held

MENTOR, Ohio (AP) — Mentor police prosecutor Milton R. Stern said Friday at a preliminary hearing for Howard Thomas Hoffman III that five .32-caliber bullets with their noses hollowed out in home-made fashion were used to kill the defendant's parents, Thomas Hoffman Jr., 48, and his wife, Laura Jane, 47.

The Mentor couple was found slain in their home March 14. Hoffman had a fractured skull and had been shot three times. His wife had been shot twice. Their home was also set afire in an attempt to cover up the slayings, police said.

The younger Hoffman, 22, of Chagrin Falls was arrested 16 days later and charged with two counts of first-degree murder in connection with the slayings. He pleaded innocent to the charges the following day.

"They were .32-caliber lead bullets and hollow-pointed into dum-dum bullets with no purpose other than death," said Stern, explaining that hollowed-out bullets are deadlier than regular bullets.

Stern said the state would show that Hoffman killed his parents "in a manner that connotes utmost purposefulness and deliberate and premeditated planning," and that he fired the gun and hollowed the bullets out himself.

After Stern called five prosecution witnesses, the four-hour hearing was recessed until Monday afternoon.

Dayton Wins Case, Loses $126,000

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The City of Dayton won the case but lost $126,000, officials said Friday after learning of an Ohio Supreme Court ruling.

The officials added they don't know where they're going to get the money.

The Supreme Court upheld lower courts in denying retroactive overtime pay to Dayton policemen for 15-minute periods they had to serve before and after eight-hour shifts.

The officers spent the time in lining up and in preparatory work.

The courts ruled that the policemen were not entitled to retroactive pay because they waived their claims for overtime in endorsing paychecks.

However, under the rulings, the city must pay the overtime from the time the suit was filed, on May 6, 1966, until the city abolished the 15-minute periods Oct. 21, 1966.

Officials said this would amount to about $126,000.

Dayton Finance Director Winton Parent said he did not know where the city would get the money. He implied the police force might have to be reduced.

"We're in enough trouble without that," Parent said. "I know of no way of bailing this out except cutting the man on the street . . . cutting service."

Dayton has been in an austerity program for about a year because of refusal of voters to authorize an increase in the one per cent city income tax.

Drug Pusher Shot To Death

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Police shot and killed an alleged drug pusher Friday night after the man reportedly slugged an officer and attempted to escape arrest.

Killed was William E. Koslosky, 24, of Columbus.

Narcotics Bureau Chief Frank Petyerly said two undercover officers had arranged to meet with Koslosky to buy 300 LSD capsules after having made a smaller purchase earlier in the day.

After the sale was completed, Petyerly said, the officers identified themselves and told Koslosky he was under arrest.

Koslosky then struck one of the detectives over the head and fled down an alley until he was felled by one of seven bullets fired by the two policemen, according to Petyerly.
